High school merger may be answer

Part four in a series

NEAL TUCKER
Staff Reporter

Though Grayslake High School Superintendent Ray Novak does not profess to have all the correct answers, he can dispel the critics on two fronts: Grayslake High School District 127 will continue to experience development at a rapid rate and the high school will certainly outgrow its current campus, probably within the next 10 years.

The best answer of how to handle the school growth is not clear, but Novak says the available options are: year round school, Lake Villa actually creating a unit school district, Grayslake and Antioch High School districts each building their own secondary campus or the two school districts consolidate into one and build one separate Lake Villa campus.

Skidmore honored at road dedication

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

Antioch has a new road this week. Skidmore Drive was named not for dangerous road conditions but instead to honor Dr. Don Skidmore.

"I was so very flattered they would honor me this way," said Skidmore. "I did not have the foggiest notion they were going to do this."

Skidmore, a 17-year resident of Antioch held the position of superintendent at School District 34 for 16 years. He retired last year and took the post of part-time business manager at the district.

In addition to his work at the school, Skidmore has volunteered much of his time to the betterment of Antioch. He has served for 10 years on the Antioch Redevelopment Committee and has been the committee chairperson since May 3, 1989.

At the dedication, Mayor Marilyn Shineflug enumerated the reasons why Skidmore was honored. "His leadership has been instrumental in encouraging the earliest efforts at downtown redevelopment," she said.

Shineflug said the road was named in Skidmore's honor because of his support of the initial traffic study, the new traffic signal on Orchard and Main, his discovery of a tenant in a previously vacant building, his support of the Loan-Buy-Down program, as well as his many other contributions towards downtown redevelopment.

"Again, Don, please accept as a symbol of our continuing appreciation, the naming of this new road in your honor," Shineflug said at the dedication.

4-H horsemanship champ guides youth

CARLA TELEPO BISHER
Correspondent

When 17-year-old Scott Barton of Antioch joined the Chain O' Lakes 4-H Club nine years ago, he was interested in getting assistance and opinions on his horse. Now, as president of the club and a junior leader for four years, he is the one giving the assistance.

"It's a cycle," explains Barton. "You start by learning through taking basic classes and projects; by learning you gain knowledge. Then, when you pass through that intermediate stage to the point where you learn enough, you share with the younger members."

4-H has not only broadened Barton's horizons and increased his knowledge, but has helped him develop leadership qualities as well. "It's even changed my personality—I wasn't always outgoing," Barton said. And with the approaching of the club's highlight of the year, the Lake County Fair, Barton's years of dedication and hard work in 4-H will have reached their final summit. For, in the fall, Barton will be embarking on a new course in his life, college at Marquette University where he will major in mechanical engineering.

In this year's Lake County Fair, held from July 26 through 30 at the fairgrounds in Grayslake, Barton's focus will be on showing his horse, Dandi. In preparation, he will be riding as much as time and weather permit. Time, for Barton, is a valuable commodity, especially in the days preceding the fair. "It all seems to come to a climax at the fair," said

Barton. "In those last few days before the fair, the challenge is in setting time aside for all projects, delegating. I also spend a lot of time at work."

Although Barton's lifestyle in general focuses mainly on his horse, he makes it a point to explore new areas. Other projects Scott will enter in the fair include a photo exhibit and a computer graphics exhibit in which he will display the different features of a house. He hopes to emphasize the benefits of using computers and the fact, as he says, See CHAMP page A4

See Me For All Your Advertising Needs.

Whether business is good or slow, you have to get your share of whatever business is around. Cutting back your advertising puts you at a disadvantage the very moment you need an edge. Increasing your advertising gives you the edge.

In times of uncertainty, consumers are careful and a little reluctant to spend. They want information. One of the main ways they get information about products, services, prices and values is from advertising. Yours or somebody else's.

Here's a hard fact to chew on. Over any given period, a company that advertises below the industry average has sales that are below the industry average.

Advertising is news-about products and services. Most consumers look for this kind of news in the pages of their community newspaper. In plush times, retailers often experiment with other media. But when the going gets tough, they concentrate their efforts in the community newspaper because it provides immediate payoff at the cash register.

Now is a great time to call me. I have a genuine concern for my clients. I will never try to sell you more than you need. I work hard at finding what will work for you.

I can bring your business to the attention of over 200,000 potential customers in 13 papers across Lake County, or reach just one community! Call me today, your success is my business!

Fishability means that everything you need is organized close at hand, but not in your way. Room for you to fish with your partners, not around your partners. It means a boat that will take the rocks, waves and rough weather that are a part of fishing. A boat that trolls quietly and maneuvers perfectly. A boat that's as much a part of your presentation as anything you tie onto your line.

Pro-V Deluxe models are console controlled versions of the legendary Pro-Vs. A padded dash puts controls and instrumentation around the driver. In the SE and Signature Models, the dashes have a refined style and are matched to the boat's deck color. Reinforced surfaces allow you to mount all your electronics. ## Taste-Maxwell Days a big hit

Staff Reporter

The Taste of Antioch and Maxwell Street Days hit a positive chord with visitors, who turned out in droves to enjoy the food, entertainment, savings and fun.

"The Taste was wonderful," said Antioch's Downtown Development Director Claude LeMere. "We had tremendous crowds."

This year, the two events were increased by a day. LeMere said the additional day really helped out.

"Sunday, it was all families with kids," he explained. "It was busy but there was no rushing or long lines."

Friday, had huge crowds, especially at the beer tent. "It was unbelievable. They went through 21 barrels of beer that night," said LeMere. No doubt the warm, humid weather helped.

Merchants are still tallying up the four day take, but LeMere said all of them reported good sales. "At points, the merchants were just jammed," he said.

Besides adding another day, LeMere believes the extra effort and added attractions helped the Maxwell Street Days sales total. "They put a lot more into it this year," he added.

"The Chamber of Commerce certainly out-did themselves this year," said LeMere. "They did an outstanding job."

Tuber injured in boating accident

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

Molly E. Brittsam, 11, was injured when she was hit by a boat while tubing in Channel Lake. She was rushed to Children's Memorial Hospital in Milwaukee by a Flight for Life helicopter.

The accident occurred

Sunday night at 6:57 p.m. Gary M. Rizzo, of Glenview, was driving the boat that was pulling Brittsam in an inflatable tube. A second boat, driven by Charles Stamar of Cicero, struck Brittsam.

"He stated he never saw the tuber," said Deputy Chief Stanley Iwan of the Lake County Sheriff's Department. "Stamar was partially blinded by the sunset."

Brittsam's family has requested no information be released to the press by the hospital, but when she was flown to Children's Hospital she had serious injuries. According to Iwan there was partial amputation of her arm and severe head injuries.

Iwan did not have any information regarding where Brittsam resides, but hospital officials confirm she lives in the Northern Illinois area.

No tickets were issued as a result of the accident. "There was no indication of alcohol use by either of the operators," said Iwan.

BRIEFS

Hall of fame needs nominations

Last year three former Antioch Community High School graduates were inducted into the new "Athletic Hall of Fame." The "Hall" was created to recognize and honor individuals or teams for their contributions to the school. In addition, administrators hope the "Hall" will provide a sense of tradition and heritage of ACHS athletes to students and the outside community. If you have any individual or team in mind for this honor, please send the name(s) and supporting information to Jim Kafer at ACHS. Inductions will be limited to three or four individuals per year. All nominations and ideas are welcome.

Moser Benefit

The Warren Moser Benefit will be held July 30 from 2 to 6 p.m. The benefit will include an auction, raffle, food and fun. The public is encouraged to attend this event which will be held at the Limerick Lounge.

Rehabbing to be done

A five-building, 60 unit apartment complex on Main and Lake streets in Antioch will undergo additional rehabbing as a result of Community Investment Corporation refinancing. The properties, managed by Josef Waltrich, will receive new hot water boiler heating systems, parking lot repairs and resurfacing, new roofing, brick repairs and thermopane windows.

Residents turn out for flood meeting

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

Those who turned out for the Stormwater Management Agency's flood mitigation plan meeting came armed with pictures and stories of road and home flooding. However, those with septic system failures were curiously absent.

"The whole reason we are doing this is to take a regional look to identify the problems," said Alan Schlindwein of the Stormwater Management Agency.

County Board Member Judy Martini, who helped coordinate the meeting, voiced her concerns regarding the lack of responsiveness in government when a crisis occurs. Residents told the Commission members how they were directed from one agency to another until homeowners simply gave up.

"This is the problem that has been going on in my district," explained Martini. "Everyone is passing the buck."

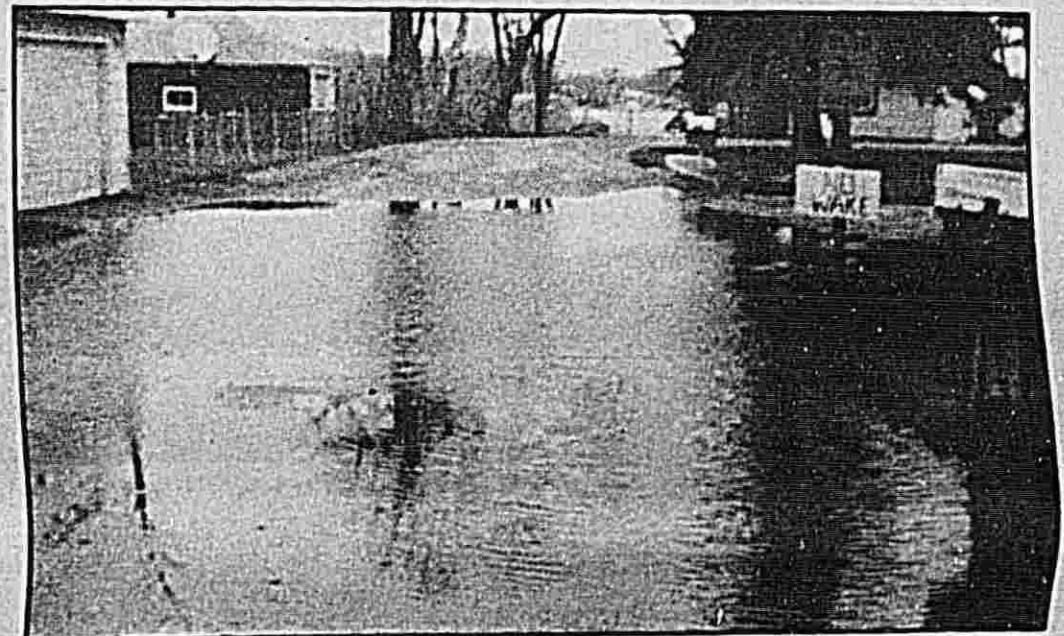

Schlindwein explained how in the past no one agency was charged with dealing with flooding problems. "In the past, any single agency has not had the resources. Instead, they have given up or had someone else fix the problem," he said.

Agency members explained to the group of mostly angry residents that the Stormwater Management Commission is a relatively new organization. "We were fully staffed in 1992. It takes a while for a new agency to learn the problems," said Schlindwein.

Schlindwein said after the problem areas are identified, a course of action will be planned. "We hope to go to the worst areas first and look at some solutions," he said. "Then we will be stepping out in the field with experts."

While many of the residents attending the meeting had road and home flooding problems, very few mentioned septic system failure, despite the fact systems are failed when there is water covering the field area. Part of the problem may be a result of fear the Lake County Health Department will swoop down on a area.

As a result, the Commission may be looking towards another meeting in Antioch Township sometime in the fall.

Residents posted a humorous no-wake sign to illustrate the flooding problems experienced in Lotus Shores Subdivision in March 1991. Representatives from many subdivisions attended the Flood Mitigation Plan meeting to discuss flooding in the area. To emphasize the extent of the problem, some residents brought pictures of flooding in their neighborhoods.

Support for parents of murdered children

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

For Tom Degen of Antioch, Dec. 28, 1983 is a date he will never forget. That is the day his son, Tom Jr., was murdered in a Waukegan restaurant.

"There was no reason for him to die," said Degen. "So, I'm making one."

Degen wants to get together with other parents who are trying to cope with the anguish of losing a child to violence. He believes they may be able to counsel each other through the pain.

Degen knows the pain of losing a child to homicide only begins with the murder. His son's killer, Steve Palmer of Gurnee, was tried and convicted. However, the Illinois Appellate Court overturned the conviction.

Apparently, Palmer, who had been arrested 14 times for crimes including assaulting restaurant customers, had a history of mental illness. According to Degen, Palmer had just been released from his 36th hospitalization when he knifed the boy to death.

Degen knows the frustrations; the highs, and the lows of the ordeal parents must face. And, he wants to share his experiences with others in an effort to ease their way. He also hopes to gain some understanding and peace for himself.

"It will be for the parents, relatives and friends of murdered children," explained Degen. "I just want to start with an informal meeting."

Eventually, Degen hopes, the local group will join up with the national organization of Parents of Murdered Children. But, right now, he is just getting the idea off the ground.

His plan is to gather members to a central location, such as Antioch, so he can include participants as far north as Kenosha, Wisconsin and as far south as Waukegan. Anyone interested in joining him should call 395-0379.

that "computers are in the future today."

Barton's years of hard work and dedication to the Chain O' Lakes 4-H Club evidently have not gone unnoticed. His leader, Karen Dietrich, speaks not only of his consistent dedication to the club, but also of Barton's personal attributes in the highest regard.

"Scott is an all-around member whom I can't say enough about," said Dietrich. "His commitment and dedication are not only in 4-H, but in his part-time job, in serving the community, and in church as well—it's just his lifestyle in general. He's one of a kind."

First Chicago displays high school art

School may be out for the summer, but the partnership between The First National Bank of Chicago's Antioch branch and Antioch Community High School is still going strong.

The partnership will be highlighted throughout the summer with 10 framed art pieces, painted by the students, displayed in the lobby of the branch at 425 Lake St. At the end of each semester, 10 new framed art pieces will be shown.

"We believe this type of recognition gives the students a boost and gives the community an opportunity to recognize the students' artistic talents," said Jeff Mulder, president of the Antioch branch.

"This is just one way for the school to say 'thanks' to First Chicago for their continuous support throughout the school year," said Sarah Redd, chairperson of Fine Arts for Antioch Community High School. "This partnership is a special opportunity for the students that will positively impact them for the rest of their lives."

Under the partnership, First Chicago also co-sponsors the school's "Athlete of the Week" program which provides a college scholarship for Antioch Community High School students.

First Chicago's Antioch branch is among the more than 80 branches of The First National Bank of Chicago, which provides leading edge banking products and services to retail and business customers throughout the Chicago metropolitan area. The First National Bank of Chicago is the tenth largest bank in the country and a subsidiary of First Chicago Corp.

When the check was returned for insufficient funds, the merchant reported it and recalled a conversation with the male in which he said his driver's license was Casper 3. The driver's license was traced to Scott Kaplan. Kaplan's former roommate had reported checks were stolen from his apartment and some 20 checks were written from Wisconsin to South Carolina. Kaplan was also wanted for forgery out of Gurnee. In a photo line-up the merchant was unable to positively identify Carrasco and Kaplan. The case was turned over to the state's attorney's office.

Drug find results in arrest

NEAL TUCKER
Staff Reporter

A man who stored three pounds of cannabis in a rural Lake Villa storage facility has been arrested while staying at a friend's home in Hainesville. Metropolitan Enforcement Group officers arrested Round Lake Park resident Alexander Delassantos, 22, following an investigation performed by Lake County Sheriff's detectives.

The presence of the cannabis was first discovered earlier this month after a renter at Sterling Storage, on Rte. 45 just north of Washington St., called the facility's owner to complain someone had broken into her compartment. The Lake County Sheriff's Department was immediately called. Upon further inspection, deputies discovered the compartment had been compromised to allow concealed access to other compartments. The offenders had used a metal cutting tool to burrow into other storage compartments.

When deputies determined nothing in the neighboring compartments had been disturbed, they assumed the offenders were looking for something specific and valuable. They called drug-sniffing dogs to the scene. The dogs focused on one storage compartment two rows away from the break in.

The next day, after obtaining a search warrant, detectives recovered three, one-pound bags of cannabis from a dresser drawer. They also found personal papers in with the furniture and other household items with Delassantos' name on them. The street value of cannabis is estimated at $1,200 per pound.

Because the arrest occurred nearly three weeks later, Delassantos had apparently not checked in on his cache of drugs. He is charged with possession of cannabis with intent to deliver, a Class 2 felony, and could be sentenced for three to seven years in prison. A spokesman for the sheriff's department confirmed Delassantos has prior arrests on cannabis possession. He could be out of prison in one year with good behavior.

A court date has not been set.

Victim's husband on trial Sept. 11

Two Evanston men who pled guilty to a home invasion and attempted murder in Grayslake will await their sentencing until the man who allegedly hired them finishes his trial.

Leroy Solti and Lamar Jones, both 18, confessed their crime against Angela Litvak, 28 in her Grayslake home and charged her husband with hiring them to kill her in order to pay off a car repair debt. Yachiel Abramov, 34, awaits a Sept. 11 trial date on eight felony counts, including three for solicitation of murder for hire.

Abramov, a manager at an automotive shop in Evanston, allegedly solicited Nathaniel Weaver and Eric Bell, both under 25, to kill his wife before hiring Solti and Jones. The amount he offered the two is reported as $4,500 in addition to forgiving a $2,500 bill for a car repair.

Assistant States Attorney George Strickland, the prosecutor for the case, said he expects the trial to take four to five days before it is decided. After delivering their testimony in Abramov's trial, Solti and Jones will be sentenced.

Solti faces six to 30 years in prison for attempted first degree murder and conspiracy for murder. He used a gun and a knife to attack Litvak, who recovered from her head and neck wounds.

Jones faces six to 20 years in prison for attempted first degree murder and conspiracy for murder. He took Litvak's 2-year-old son into another room while Solti performed the attack.

The murder for hire of a spouse has been surprisingly common in Lake County. This is the third such case Strickland has tried in the last year.—by

Hit and run driver gets supervision

A driver involved in a hit and run accident in April, pleaded guilty to the charges and was sentenced to court supervision and costs. The driver, William Bischoff, 33, of Antioch, was charged with leaving the scene of a personal injury accident and failure to reduce speed to avoid an accident.

The accident occurred on Route 83 at the Wisconsin Central tracks. When police arrived at the scene, they found the driver of a 1989 Dodge Daytona with extensive rear-end damage facing southbound in the northbound lane.

"The crossing gate arms for the south bound traffic had been broken through," said Antioch Police Department Deputy Chief Charles Watkins in an earlier interview. "At the same time, we received a 911 call from William Bischoff."

When police arrived at Bischoff's house, they found a 1994 Ford Van. Bischoff told police he had been in Wisconsin drinking with an unknown female, who had been driving his van.

Bischoff was brought in for questioning and eventually admitted to being the driver of the van. He told police he was with a male companion and did not see the car ahead of him. He said he panicked and made up the original story.

The injured driver, Amy Schmid, 21, of Zion, was taken to St. Therese Hospital with neck and back injuries. She was released the next day.

According to the Schmid, after she was hit her car stalled on the tracks as a train was approaching. Fortunately, she was able to restart the car and get off of the tracks before she was hit by the train.

Dog left in heat, owner cited with cruelty

A Lake Villa woman was cited on a local ordinance for animal cruelty after her dog was left outside in this month's 100-degree heat.

Police received a call on July 14 at 1:45 in the afternoon of a dog on the loose. Upon arrival, they found a small white dog believed to be an American Spitz hiding in the bushes. Some neighborhood youths told the officer the animal was left in its pen and climbed out.

Upon investigation of the pen, the officer discovered there were no trees in the yard to provide shade. The pen had piles of vomit and very little water and the dog was believed to be suffering from the extreme heat. The dog was brought to the station where it rapidly lapped up two cups of water.

The Lake County Animal Warden took the animal and when the owner came to pick it up she was served a citation. The woman has a Aug. 9 court date in Grayslake. The woman stated she has taken proper care of the animal.

It's good that we're sisters, I might not be so forgiving

During Heat Wave '95 the Pringle homestead had a seven-hour power outage. My sister Cindy happened to be over and we spent the day swimming, even though the pool water was 90 degrees and not much relief. Dinner couldn't be prepared without electricity, so off to a neighboring town fast food establishment we went.

When we arrived home we were amazed to find the power still had not been restored and we knew we were in for a long night. Fumbling around the dark house, the only working flashlight I could find was my daughter's Fisher Price play one. When I bought it I was impressed with the automatic shut-off device which activates every three minutes so as not to be left on by a careless toddler, which meant that every three minutes the darn thing went out and I had to slam it to get it back on.

My sister graciously invited us to spend the night at her power-induced house which included water and air conditioning in her bedroom. I accepted the invitation and with my proficient three-minute flashlight, I packed a bag for me and the kids and off we went to Aunt Cindy's.

We ushered into the house and found my sister preparing the family room for our stay. I was thinking to myself, "That's not where the air conditioner is, so why is she setting things up for us here?" But being the quiet one in the family, I never said a word about the original invite which included the air conditioned bedroom, and instead I just snuggled down on the family room couch while my kids nestled on the floor. Good ole sis did supply us with a fan, though. "Nighty nighty," she proclaims and saunters up to her cooled confines.

It was a hot, restless night, but we managed down in the family room while my sister basked in the coolness of her room.

In the morning I thought a cool shower would soothe my seething anger as well as get me ready to face yet another triple-digit day. I turned on the cold water tap in the shower and the water trickled out. I turned on the hot water tap and the water trickled out. I tried the sink, I flushed the toilet—no water!

Oh, great. Not only did I toss and turn on that crummy couch all night in the heat, now I had no water to bathe or brush my teeth. Then my sister, looking rested and refreshed, says, "Oh, I guess I should have let everyone sleep in the bedroom instead of in the family room." I took a deep breath—well, actually several—packed up the kids and went home.

Our power was restored which meant water, but I had disengaged the garage door opener to close the door the night before and now I couldn't get the door opened, even manually. I carry no key to my front door, I always come in through the garage. It's 7:30 a.m., I'm tired, haven't brushed my teeth, haven't had my first glass of water (which I drink like coffee), I'm hot and now I'm locked out of my house. Now all I needed was the Publishers Clearing House Sweepstakes Patrol to pull up and stick a camera in my face.

Neal had spent the night at home, but now the trick was to wake up the man who sleeps harder than rocks. I pounded, hollered, stomped, banged, screamed and got down right ugly, and finally a bewildered, sleepy face appeared at the door. "What do you want?" he says. Millions of answers formed on my lips but I got a grip and told myself the man was still half asleep. Besides, he was my only hope of restoring some semblance to this day.

Now if this was just a nothing-going-on-but-lay-by-the-pool kind of day, I wouldn't have been the least flustered, but this was the day I had to be at the library by 9:30 a.m., run home to grab lunch, pack the car and head off to Wisconsin for the weekend. Sounds simple enough, but with the heat and the power outage, I was a bit behind schedule and had not packed one single thing yet for our weekend get-away. Not a shirt, not a hair brush, not one pair of underwear, nothing—and it was already going on 8 a.m. and 89 degrees.

I managed to shake off the morning after an oh-so-long and oh-so-cold shower. I even fulfilled most of my obligations and commitments for the rest of the day. I drove to our hotel that night, cranked up the air conditioner in our room, ordered room service, tucked the girls into bed, then planned my sister's revenge. The power of print is oh, so sweet!

It's fair time

This is the weekend for the 67th Annual Lake County Fair! It

JINGLE FROM PRINGLE

LYNN

runs from July 26 to 30 with some events taking place as early as 6:30 a.m. Bet you get a great parking spot if you get there that early!

The Exhibit Buildings open up at 10 a.m. and the Midway (not the airport, the carnival type rides that will keep your children occupied) will open at noon. There's a rodeo on Friday, July 28 at 8 p.m., a truck pull at 7 p.m. on Saturday, July 29, and the Demolition Derby runs from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. on Sunday, July 30.

I have to admit, folks, that I am not much of a county fair type individual: My kids come up with a zillion questions about the farm animals that I can't seem to answer, the rides don't agree with my sensitive inner organs, and country music just doesn't get my giddy up, but I did take my two girls last year and we really had a great time. There are so many different events going on you are apt to find something that captivates your interest. Mine happens to be food!

So go on over to the Grayslake Fair Grounds and who knows, maybe you'll even see "Jingle" here riding the Ferris Wheel. Not!

Audition being held

Once again PM&L Theater is preparing for an upcoming play, "Fiddler on the Roof." They will be holding auditions on July 30 and 31 at 7:30 p.m. right at the theater, located at 877 Man St. in Antioch. A huge cast is needed, so anyone between the ages of 8 to 80 is asked to come over and try out. Good luck to you all!

Rumor has it...

I've been hearing from some of you who have been enjoying my work here every week and I must say I have gotten an awful lot of good feed back from the adoring public. Now a lot of my information is relayed second-, and sometimes third-hand, but all the same it's nice to hear the positive comments as well as those revealing details.

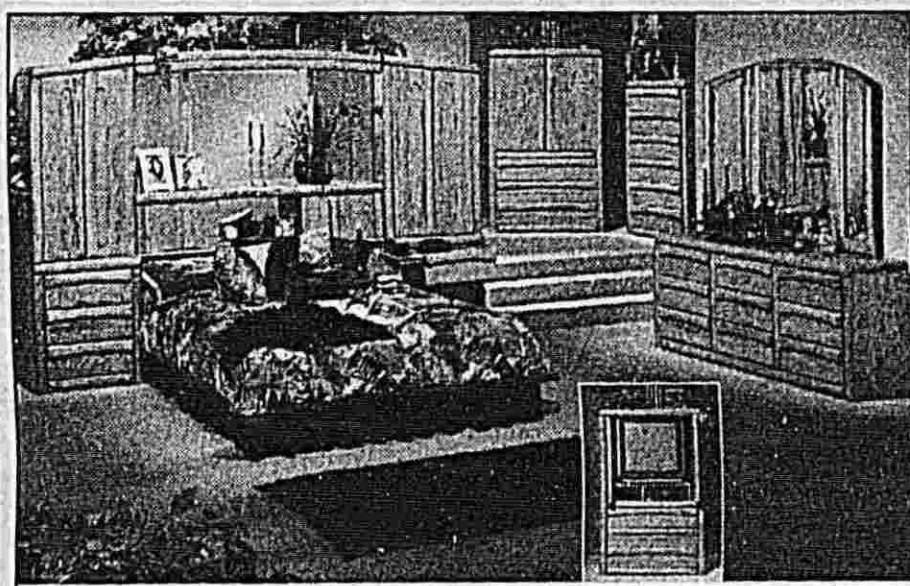

I know somebody out there must be glancing at my work because I was informed that one of my unsuspecting victims was approached at a store about her knee incident by Joe Titus. Thanks for reading, Joe!

I also understand that I have a fan that doesn't even live in Antioch but still gets a copy of the paper mailed to her. Hello to "Sylvia from the city."

So folks, keep my phone ringing or it will be those "Pringle family" stories filling the lines of this column, and we know how Neal feels about those!

And so goes another "Jingle from Pringle"...don't forget to call 395-6364.

Annual Lions Club gala in Antioch August 6

After months of planning work, Antioch Lions Club members are again ready to entertain the public at their annual Chicken Barbecue Picnic and Auction Sunday, Aug. 6, from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m.

All events will be held at the Antioch Aqua Center and Lions Club Pavilion located in Williams Park, N. Main St., Antioch. Dinner tickets ($5 donation) are available from Lion members, First National Bank of Antioch, State Bank of the Lakes, First Chicago Bank and Bank of Waukegan, Antioch facility.

Antioch folks are known for their gracious hospitality and know-how at seeing to it that special events are top-rated by visitors. They have played host to millions of tourists for more than a century, and this event has come to be regarded as one of the top festival-type attractions in the entire bi-state region.

Events of the day include lots of fun for the kids featuring games, races and prizes. Games are scheduled to begin at noon with six age brackets, including young adults. Special attractions include Miss Antioch.

The big auction starts at noon and is conducted by widely known auctioneer Herman Behm. All proceeds are donated to the Antioch Rescue Squad. Anyone interested in donating items in good condition may phone the Antioch Village office at 395-1000.

Proceeds from this event are used for the work of the Lions Club. The Antioch Lions Club is one of the most active civic clubs anywhere, and is highly regarded as outstanding in their consistent work for the good of the community, with special emphasis in support of the blind handicapped.

Women's Club scholarship winners, front, Mandi Dale, Jill Thompson, Angela Burke. Back, Justin Jenison, Andrew Bolton, C.J. Kucera.

Women of the Moose are busily at it again

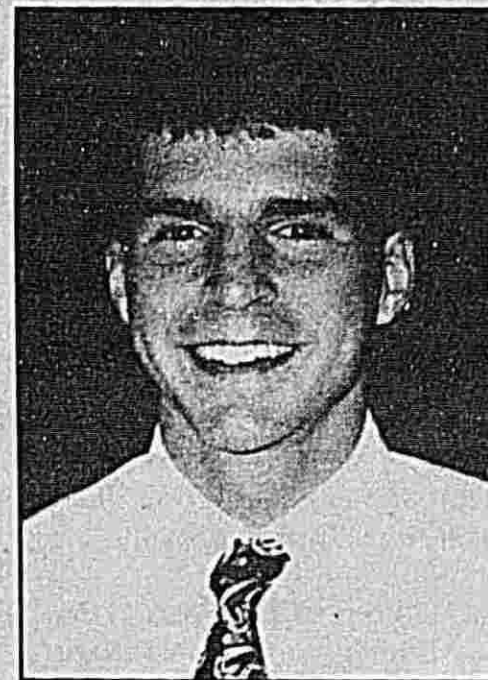

The Women of the Moose meeting was well-attended. Helen Galetti's publicity committee members prepared a lot of delicious food, including a sheet cake made by Vicki Schweiss and Elaine Zeman. Galetti wants to thank all the committee members: Schweiss, Zeman, Ann Byczek, Ruth Gussarson, Diane Manders, Jo Litwin, Ceil Hojem, Estelle Gatch, Shirley McIntyre and Nancy Keisler. The following women could not attend but graciously donated food: Barbara Seelhoff, Ann Barone and Dorothy Tralewski.

The club welcomed seven new members in the installation ceremony. The only disappointment was that Women of the Moose from Fox Lake could not be there as they had to unexpectedly attend the wake of one of their dearly loved members.

As she introduced her committee from the Senior Regents station, Galetti said, "Our theme for this year, 'Because of You We Share Our Love,' was shown to me by the wonderful help I got from all my committee members. Without the members jumping right in, the chairman is nothing."

Residents are proud grandparents — NEW ARRIVALS

SPENCER SCHEIN

Staff Reporter

Donald and Rose Lobodzinski of Antioch are the proud grandparents of Danielle Marie Marsek, who was crowned Little Miss Wauconda.

The 6-year-old daughter of Nancy and Daniel Marsek said she was "very excited" after her name was announced as winner of the 1995 pageant held at Wauconda High School.

Marsek will be a first-grader at Transfiguration School this fall, and has already started preparing for the Little Miss Lake County Pageant held during next week's fair.

Marsek said she likes playing with her friends, and a doll that lives in a purse.

Favorite television shows include "Sister Sister" and "Full House," and Marsek said she really enjoyed watching "Pocahontas" on the big-screen.

"She is cute," Marsek said.

Nancy Marsek said she had an indescribable feeling when her daughter won the pageant.

"It was wonderful," she said.

"She is enjoying it very much."

Little Miss Wauconda made her first appearance representing the community at the Junior Miss Wauconda Pageant held the next evening.

Danielle Marsek has two older brothers, Danny, 12, and William, 9. The Lobodzinski's are Marsek's maternal grandparents. Her paternal grandparents are Robert and Janet Schmidt of Twin Lakes, Wis.

Danielle has been spending her summer vacation swimming with Grandpa Donald and Grandma Rose and going out with them on their boat. She also went camping in Arkansas with her Uncle Ronald Lobodzinski, also of Antioch.

Although she did not know it, Danielle had a little edge over some of the other 11 contestants. Her father is a firefighter at Wauconda Fire Department. Her victory makes it three-in-a-row for the fire department.

A large crowd of 175 people attended the pageant, held in a hot, and sometime dark, Wauconda High School on July 15. Power was restored before any pageant festivities took place.

"Everyone pitched in to make it a great pageant," said Kim Murphy, pageant director.

First annual Venetian night a treat

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

The first annual Venetian Night on Lake Catherine and Channel Lake was a treat for onlookers and participants alike. Decorated boats cruised the two lakes, much to the appreciation of many lakefront homeowners as well as those sitting on subdivision beaches.

"People were cheering and yelling as the boats passed by," said Carole Jonites, president of Felters Subdivision, sponsor of the event. "A number of people from other subdivisions participated both in the boat decorating and the party afterwards."

Hot dogs and beverages were served during the event, which allowed even those without boats to enjoy the evening.

"It was extremely nice," said Jonites. "I was sorry we didn't decorate our boat," she added.

Wes and Mary Jones won first prize for their boat decorated in the Christmas in Florida theme. The boat had Santa Claus and a chimney to boot. The funniest boat went to Harry and Ellen Bowers. Entitled "Miami or Bust," the couple decked themselves and their boat out as though they were fleeing Cuba.

Roughly 40 to 50 people attended the first Venetian Night and the subdivision plans to continue the event next year. "Absolutely, we will do this next year," said Jonites. "I think the idea will grow."

Resident wins in cellular phone contest

Antioch resident Christine Broadston submitted a story which made her a winner in the Magical Moments contest sponsored by Mobile Cellulations of Downers Grove, Ameritech's leading cellular dealer in the midwest. The contest asked for phone users to submit a short description of a practical application of their cellular phone that made a difference in their lives.

Broadston had received her phone on a Friday evening, just before she and her roommate were to leave for dinner. She was so excited to use her phone that she took it along to dinner. Fifteen minutes later, she was on the phone with the local police department, informing them that she had hit a deer in one of the most remote portions of the county. With this unfortunate incidence, Broadston realized the "endeering" qualities of having a cellular telephone.

Kiwanis stress Family Day

ALEC JUNG

Staff Reporter

An organization dedicated to helping youth is asking township families to celebrate what they are all about—families.

The Lindenhurst Kiwanis urges every family in Lake Villa and Antioch townships to observe family day on Sunday, August 13.

"Family day seeks to dramatize family solidarity and pride, reaffirming the family's role as the cornerstone of society and the best vehicle for teaching basic truths and morality to children," said Mary Riggs, president of Lindenhurst Kiwanis.

Kiwanis members suggested activities for the day include family reunions or outings, religious worship, work on family events or work on family trees.

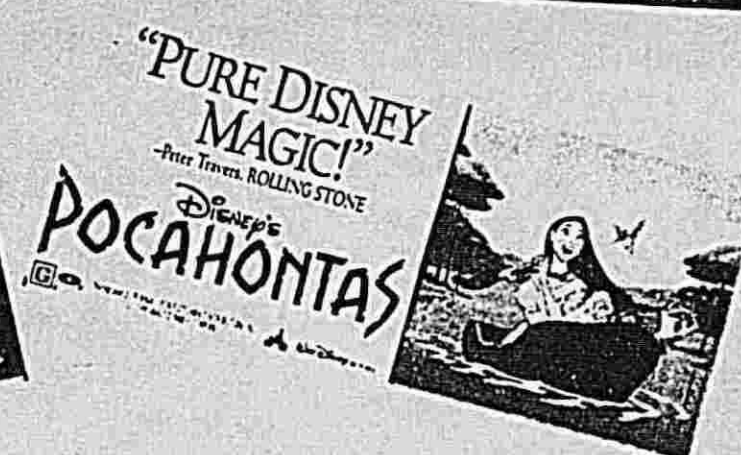

Family Day was begun in the late 1960s by Kiwanis International and received endorsement of other civic, governmental, educational and labor leaders. Through the years, Family Day has grown in outreach and in effectiveness," Riggs said.

Last year Kiwanis clubs raised and spent more than $65 million on community service activities with special emphasis on meeting the needs of young children. Today, Kiwanis numbers 8,650 clubs and 327,000 members in 77 countries throughout the world.

The Kiwanis has co-sponsored activities of Community Outreach Uniting Residents Against Gang Environment (COURAGE). Kiwanis co-sponsored a ski trip and a river rafting trip. Kiwanis is participating in Central Baptist's Children's Home 100th anniversary.

Kiwanis invites residents of Lake Villa and Antioch townships to their meeting every week at 7:30 a.m. at the Victory Lakes Continuing Care Center.

School

growth, Novak said his school board began looking into the possibility of consolidation in 1986. Since he came to Grayslake High School in 1991, that concept has only gained momentum. Because accommodating growth for a school district takes years, time is becoming more of a precious resource.

Grayslake High School opens its doors to a new 40,000 square foot addition. Novak expects that space to be insufficient in 4 years. The $7 million addition was funded by the selling of bonds and will be repaid over the next 10 years through the district's annual budget. The next addition, which would need to include another 40,000 square feet of classroom space, a field house and an auditorium, will be the last on the cramped Grayslake campus. The $14 million to $18 million project would probably have to get referendum approval from voters.

The enrollment this fall at Grayslake High School begins at 1,200 students, up from 727 just four years ago. Projecting out at today's growth rate, Grayslake High School would maximize its future 2,000-student capacity around the year 2005. To counteract the nay sayers who doubt Grayslake will continue its spiraling growth cycle in the future, Novak points out that Grayslake High School District 127 is comprised of at least eight communities. This includes the largely undeveloped Lake Villa Township, which already provides Grayslake High School with more than 20 percent of its student body. Antioch High School District 117, which gets more than 50 percent of its student body from Lake Villa, faces the same ominous future.

"Any time you pool your resources and try to solve a problem it is better than going off and doing your own thing," Novak said.

Looking at state acreage guidelines a 2,000-student high school illustrates the importance of finding the best workable solution. For a 1,500 student campus, a school must allocate 48 acres.

"We're going to have a lot of trouble finding 48 acres (in Lake Villa)," Novak said, whose current campus rests on 25 acres. He said the only way the school gets by today with physical education and sports activities is to use the all-weather track year round and the open Park District fields across the street.

A consolidated district would combine a $485 million tax base, which would create less of a strain on each district's taxpayers. Taxpayers would also be relieved because each separate district would not have to build its own high school. The 74-square mile school district would not be unmanageable according to Novak.

"Orland Park High School district is 78 square miles and they operate just fine with three high schools," he said.

A combined district would also need the spirit of cooperation. There would be one school board overseeing the entire district but Novak says that doesn't mean each community would lose complete autonomy. Each campus would reflect its community, its administration, the parents involved and the student body. Novak is careful to reiterate consolidation is only a possible solution. Because of the impending problems of the future, it is time to "get creative."

"I'm not saying I'm completely sold on the idea (of consolidation), but I think it requires some review," Novak said.

Lake Villa Mustangs win state championship

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

Awesome! Impressive! And just plain dominating!

Lake Villa Township Traveling Mustangs captured the American Amateur Baseball Congress state crown. Lake Villa swept the double-elimination series in five games.

Lake Villa downed perennial powerhouses Joliet 16-2, Rockford Cherry Valley 6-2, Rockford Mustangs 12-4, Rockford Forest City 7-3, and the Rockford Mustangs again 9-3 in the championship game.

Lake Villa's statistics tell the story. During the tournament, the pitching staff combined for a 1.2 ERA, and the offense outscored its opponents 50-14.

"For every one run we gave up, we scored four," said Manager Tom Myers, who put the statistics in perspective.

Strikeout kings on the mound included

Ryan Myers (16), Chad Stroupe (15), Nick Blocker (12), Scott Wold (7), and Matt Huotari, who struckout the side in his only inning of pitching.

The defense was just as supportive, which was highlighted by center fielder Brad Hoogerhyde, who snatched a sinking line shot on an all-out diving catch.

"You would have never known he was 10 years old," Myers said.

"When he made that play, it turned the momentum our way."

Coming up with other clutch plays in left and right fields were Sean Walker and Scott Coles.

"The outfield just made outstanding plays that supported our infield and pitching," Myers said.

Nick Severson solidified the hot corner at third base, and second baseman Greg Kruse made a diving stop and threw out a runner from his knees.

If Nick Ford had one more biscuit for breakfast, he could have claimed a grand slam. The Rockford outfielder made a great play to save the base-clearing homer.

"It was one of those things that if he had gotten just a little more of the ball, the ball was gone," Myers commented. Stroup was credited with a homer that hit a concession stand over the fence.

The state championship was the crowning jewel of LV's undefeated regular season play in Mike's Memorial League.

"This was a team effort," Myers noted. "Everybody on our team contributed somehow."

The state champs will now represent Illinois in the AABC Regional finals against teams from Michigan and Minnesota. Winners of the regional travel to Athens, Ga., for the Little League World Series.

LV baseball standout to play on Team USA

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

Chris Kocinski departed for St. Louis for a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity.

The standout catcher for the Lake Villa Broncos Traveling Team was selected for the 1995 USA Pan American Team.

Team USA includes 18 players ages 11 and 12 years old who were drafted nationally to represent the United States in the international Pan American Games Aug. 2-14.

This year's games are hosted by the U.S. in St. Louis and include teams from 12 countries such as Brazil, Mexico, Costa Rica, Venezuela, Argentina, Bahamas and the Dominican Republic.

"It's neat because he gets to play against players from different countries, besides he gets to workout with some college coaches," said proud father Len Kocinski.

The Lake Villa star was scouted and recommended to tryout with several hundred players nationally who attended camps in California, Texas, Florida and New York. They were rated on pitching, hitting, fielding and attitude toward competition.

Kocinski worked out in Evanston with Team USA Coach Dan Kusinski and was one of four players selected from Illinois.

"He's got a strong throwing arm and he's a good hitter. He also has great defensive catching abilities," noted Ryan Pendergast, Kocinski's Lake Villa Coach.

"Blocking the ball and his throws to second base are probably his best qualities," Pendergast added.

With Lake Villa, Kocinski batted a remarkable .440 and knocked in 56 RBIs to lead the team.

"He has some power, but he makes contact mostly," Pendergast said. "You can pretty much count on him to hit the ball."

Pendergast has coached Kocinski for the last two years, which included last year's state championship title run at the Mustang level.

"His dad is really the one who has to take credit for his playing abilities. He just does anything you ask him to do," Pendergast said.

Chris Kocinski of Lake Villa is one of only 18 players from across the nation chosen to represent the United States at the Pan American games. He is a member of the 11 and 12-year-old Team USA.

The Lake Villa Broncos missed Kocinski's glove behind the plate and bat during the state finals in Rockford. Lake Villa finished 1-2 in the tournament.

"He had a tough decision to make, but how can you pass up this opportunity?" Pendergast said.

Kocinski left for St. Louis July 19 to practice and to play exhibition games for two weeks prior to the opening of the Pan Am Games. Collegiate coaches were expected to be on hand to prepare the team.

The team is also invited to several public appearances in the St. Louis area, including an international parade during the St. Louis Cardinals and Houston Astros game Aug. 3.

Several local sponsors helped support Kocinski's trip to St. Louis. Sponsors included Century 21 Marketplace in Mundelein, CLR Industries in Geneva and ACU-TEK Systems in Lake Villa.

"Chris is very excited about this opportunity to represent the United States in international competition," Kocinski's father said. "It's a chance of a lifetime..."

Cheerleading clinic aims to develop future winners

Attention budding cheerleaders!

The Antioch Community High School varsity cheerleading squad will be hosting a cheerleading clinic for 6 to 14 year olds at the high school on Aug. 5 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Antioch's award-winning squad is looking to pass on its pom-pom, dance and stunts expertise onto the next generation of young cheerleaders.

"A lot of grade schools have different routines, but it's a whole different level when you get to high school," explained Joelle Wegener, co-captain of the varsity squad. Wegener and co-captain Mary Aschbacher will be leading the clinic.

Antioch cheerleaders perform during the football and basketball seasons. Competitions and camps are held throughout the year.

Campers will be learning dance routines, different kicks, jumps and stunts.

Two years ago the Sequoit cheerleading team qualified to compete in the national competition in Nashville, Tenn., and ascended to No. 6 in the country.

"This year, we aim to get first in the nation," boasted Wegener as she and her fellow cheerleaders set lofty goals.

To continue the winning tradition at Antioch High, Wegener said the cheerleading squad is hoping to recruit and train future award-winning squads.

The clinic, she said, helps both up-and-coming cheerleaders and varsity cheerleaders "to work together as a squad and build team unity."

Registration on the day of the clinic is $20. Pre-registration is $15. Pizza and beverages will be available. Weather permitting, the clinic will be held on the football field or the gymnasium. Campers are asked to wear T-shirts, shorts and to bring a water bottle and towel.

"This helps us raise money for our camps and competitions," said Wegener, who stressed that proceeds benefit the cheerleading program.

Antioch cheerleaders will be attending a camp Aug. 10-13 at the University of Wisconsin at Whitewater in preparation for nationals in December.

To register for the cheerleading clinic, call Wegener at 395-8258 or Aschbacher at 395-0421.

Barrington's touch too much for Gurnee hopes

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

To watch the state Legion baseball tournament, one has to go to Barrington.

To qualify for the coveted spots, Lake County teams had to go through Barrington's team's talent.

Neither Vernon nor Gurnee could get the task accomplished at the College of Lake County Saturday and Sunday. Gurnee settled for second-place status while Vernon was third among four teams.

Gurnee (23-13) came into the Sunday clashes needing only one win to qualify. And hopes were running high early, but 6 runners left on base in the middle innings thwarted a late rally in a 6-4 loss. The second game was all Nick Franzese as he fired a no-hitter to blank Gurnee Post 771 2-0.

"Nothing really seems to matter after today. These guys did a great job," Gurnee Coach Rick Hill said.

Gurnee started the final four with so much promise with 13-2 win over Lake Zurich and 9-5 over Barrington.

Gurnee tallied the first run of the day as Curt Salata and Mike Cenni walked, moved up on wild pitch and Salata scored on a ground out by Dan Hill.

Gurnee would never lead again as Barrington scored the tying run in its half on an infield hit by Ken Savely (3-of-4, 2 RBIS).

Gurnee ace Eric Eckenstahler had a shaky start with a 2-run first and third innings, and Barrington scored single runs in the fifth and sixth innings.

Gurnee gained a 2-2 tie in the second. Lee Deaton singled, advanced on wild pitches and scored on another grounder RBI, by Eric Bradley.

Gurnee had a chance to take the lead in the third. Cory Clark singled, stole second and third and tried to score on a wild pitch. But the Barrington catcher Dave Smith tossed the ball to winning pitcher Erick Alley and the Gurnee hope was dashed.

Franzese, a Northwestern University-bound player, had a key hit in the third, an RBI single which followed one by Savely for a 4-2 lead.

The lead was 6-2 when Gurnee showed signs of life in the eighth inning.

Hill tripled down the left-field line and scored on a single by Todd Eifert. Bradley's RBI single brought the Gurnee squad to within two, but that was as close as they got.

Barrington (31-2) showed why the team is the favorite, even coming from the losers' bracket.

Franzese fanned 7 and let the defense do the rest.

"His fastball was his best pitch and he got his change-up and curveball over to mess up the hitters," Barrington Coach Kirby Smith said.

Mike Cenni threw a 3-hitter - an excellent outing for not being a regular starter, but all three hits came in the same inning and Barrington won.

Alley's 2-run single was the telling blow.

Gurnee had but two baserunners - Salata reached on an error in the first and Billy Duncan walked in the eighth.

"I did not want the season to end and I tried to shut them down and throw strikes," Cenni said.

Antioch All-Stars

2-out rally ends Vernon's year

Sometimes, getting that third out can be so difficult.

Just ask the Vernon American Legion baseball team. The squad was sailing along for five innings and had two outs in the sixth before disaster struck.

Barrington tagged Vernon starter Jack Leiter for 5 runs on 4 hits and went on to win the game 5-1. The win eliminated Vernon and sent Barrington on its way to another District 10 championship.

"We had a great bunch of guys. I would not trade them for the world," Vernon Coach B.J. McCullough said after another 20-plus win season came to an end Saturday.

Vernon (26-13) scored its only run in the eighth. Nate McCabe's single scored Rob Pigott, who reached with a lead-off double.

Vernon had a good chance the previous inning with a single, but two force outs ended the threat.

Matt Beall had a pair of singles, but his in the sixth was erased with a double play.

But one cannot erase the accomplishments of this Vernon squad, which beat Lake Zurich a convincing 16-6 to claim third place at the College of Lake County.

IV Broncos finish banner year at state

The Lake Villa Township Bronco (11-12 year olds) Traveling Team completed its banner season with an overall record of 35-14 and qualified for the state tournament in Rockford.

In the state tournament, the Lake Villa Broncos opened with a 14-2 slaughtering of Springfield Fairfield. Justin seedoff and Jerrad Ponce had homers in the win. Ace pitcher Jeff Norwick started in the five-inning game.

"He was pretty much flawless in that game," commented Coach Ryan Pendergast.

The Broncos, however, fell to Waukegan 11-6 and to Springfield First American 8-2 to finish 1-2 in the state tournament.

"We didn't play so well, but definitely the competition gets stiffer," Pendergast said. He noted the Lake Villa contingent was represented half by 11 year olds and half by 12 years olds. Other teams featured mostly 12 year olds.

"It will make us that much better," Pendergast said with optimism of the 11 year olds returning next year.

The team completed play in the Mike's memorial League with a 19-4 record. This was good enough for a tie for second place in the league standings.

In addition, Lake Villa had two second-place finishes in tournament play.

In the Waukegan, Wis., tournament lost its first game and came back to win three straight before bowing to Palatine in the tournament championship game.

Lake Villa secured another second-place finish in the Gurnee tournament by defeating teams from Beach Park, Gurnee, Winthrop Harbor and Dixon.

"We had a very good year," Pendergast said. "Overall, I was pleased with their play."

Team members included Ponce, Seedoff, Norwick, Kyle Davis, Sean Donovan, Mike Fischer, Andrew Kinney, Chris Kocinski, Kevin Pendergast, Mark Purnell, Josh Papier, Shawn Schuler and Scott Straub.

Coach Pendergast was assisted by Bill Straub, Bill Schuler and Jim Fischer.

Two drivers take checker before rains

Kenosha's Todd Daun captured his second 25-lap winged sprint feature of the season, as did point leader and defending champion Steve Moulis of Fox Lake in the mini-sprints.

Rains hit the one-third mile during a red flag period at lap nine of the modified feature. As a result, all modified competitors received equal points and money for the main.

The IMCA modified feature will be made up July 29, which means the new open wheel class will have two features that night.

Jeff Ferkin, who came through the "B" Main, took the initial lead in the non-stop sprint main. Allen Winker worked in front, using the outside on the backstretch on lap eight. Ferkin and Winker battled wing to wing around the Wisconsin Clay Center of Speed with Ferkin retaking top spot on lap 12.

Winker retook first on lap 13 with Daun quietly moving up from his seventh starting spot. Three laps from the finish, Daun put his Budweiser/Ron's American Automotive/Gordon Auto Parts 1993 Gambler No. 19 into the lead using the high line down the front straightaway.

"It was fun, but a lot of work," said Daun, who took over the point lead as previous leader Dave Moulis pulled out after the parade lap. "I would've rather had Dave out there. The crew did a great job setting the car up. It took a while to come around, but when it did, it worked great."

Moulis put his Fox Lake Harbor/Pacific Club/T.J.'s Chicken & Ribs No. 1 into the lead on the first lap of the mini-sprint main. Moulis was never headed in the 15 lap run, but received a scare as a car spun as he was coming out of turn four on the final lap.

A total purse of $12,100 was paid out among the field 79 open wheel cars which competed in 15 events before the rains hit just prior to 10 p.m. Bobbie Schinker returned to Wilmot as a corner safety worker after an eight year absence.

Wilmot Speedway will host the only Wisconsin stop for the United States Auto Club Loctite National Championship Sprint Series on Thursday, July 27.

A $4,000 first prize awaits the winner of the 30-lap feature in the Miller Genuine Draft sponsored program, part of a total purse of over $15,000. Mini-modifieds are also on the program. Special starting times are grandstands opening at 6 p.m., time trials at 7 p.m. and races at 8 p.m.

Next Saturday will feature sprints, IMCA modifieds, mini-sprints and modifieds. The IMCA modified feature from July 15 will be run first on the program. Gates open at 5 p.m., races at 7 p.m.

The Wilmot Volunteer Fire Dept. will host its traditional Fireman's Day Parade, water fights and dance on the fair grounds. The parade, which begins and ends on the fair grounds, begins at 2 p.m., with lineup at 1 p.m.

The Herb's Mini-Sprint Challenge will be $250 on July 29 if a heat winner starts in the rear of the feature and wins.

The five-lap J&L Oil Mini-Sprint Dash qualifiers for July 29 are Steve Reidel, Jr., Steve Moulis, Scott Sippel and Todd Lehr.

For Wilmot Speedway information phone the 24-hour race-lines at 838-RACE or (414)862-2446, or track office at (414)862-2458.

Wilmot bike giveaway benefits drug awareness

Toft Auto Racing's Wilmot Speedway will host its annual "Race Against Drugs" Night on Aug. 5.

Four bikes will be given away courtesy of Toft Auto Racing, Antioch Schwinn, Herbalife-Terry Shebenik, Lake County West Chrysler-Plymouth-Jeep-Eagle and Rickie's Greyhound Inn.

Kenosha Council on Alcoholism & Other Drug Abuse is participating. Lake County Crimestoppers will be offering children's video tapes as they are one of only four such organizations in the nation which provides this service.

"Operation Baby Buckle," a part of the Safe American Foundation, plans to have a display. Local DARE units and fire departments traditionally participate as well.

Several race teams are sponsoring prizes such as bike safety helmets, along with infant and children's car seats.

"The response has been fantastic," said promoter Ray Toft. "The pulling together of the competitors and business people shows racing people are very good hearted and community minded."

Besides sponsorships for the traditional U.S. Savings Bonds which will be given away, businesses and individuals wishing to donate gift certificates or merchandise are encouraged to contact the Speedway.

Youngsters will have the opportunity to win prizes as they are matched up with a competitor for the evening's feature event. Plans are to match a youngster with each of the anticipated 20 mini-sprint drivers to start off with.

"With the interest we've had, we look to be able to match youngsters with drivers in as many of our features as possible," explained Toft.

Toft Auto Racing invites all young people ages 12 and under to attend the evening's race program with an adult free, as guests of the Speedway.

A full program of sprints, IMCA modifieds, mini-sprints and modifieds are scheduled. Gates open at 5 p.m. with racing at 7 p.m.

Persons wishing to become involved in the program, or community organizations wishing to have a table with information, should contact the track office at (414)862-2458 or Mike Babicz at 855-0019.

Eggert finds more gold at Prairie State Games

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

Libertyville High School wrestling Coach Dale Eggert can add another gold medal to his growing collection of medallions garnered from Prairie State Games wrestling events.

For his third consecutive year, Eggert gained a gold medal in the open wrestling division at 136 pounds. In three matches, he won 12-1, by pin and 8-2 in the finals.

Since the Prairie State Games began 11 years ago, Eggert has captured 12 gold medals, three silvers and three bronze medals.

"It's kind of a hobby for me. I train year-round, and it's still very important to me to compete in the Prairie State games," Eggert said.

Eggert is 39, but still finds himself grappling with wrestlers fresh out of college or who are still competing at the collegiate level. Judging by the number of medals he has draped around his neck over the years, his success rate bodes pretty well against younger blood.

"There's not much else going on during the summer, so all my summer training is directed toward the games," Eggert said.

He admitted that he had a little extra incentive this year to maintain his medal status. Last year, Eggert was named Male Athlete of the Year and was honored with the lighting of the torch during opening ceremonies this summer.

"I went in to defend the honor as athlete of the year. It was fun," Eggert said.

When he is not training or conditioning, Eggert is coach of Libertyville's powerhouse wrestling team. He believes his love of the sport and constant conditioning spurs success in Libertyville's wrestling program.

"It replaces my credibility with them each year," Eggert said. "I think it helps them learn how I prepare for a competition. The big thing is to keep conditioning in the off-season."

One who seems to be following in Eggert's footsteps is Jason Cohen, who gained a fourth-place finish at 171 pounds. Cohen won three out of five matches.

"He's done a lot during the off-season, and he's a very serious athlete," Eggert said of Cohen. "He's very powerful and dedicated. I wouldn't say he is a natural, but he's paid his dues."

Other area wrestler who competed in the Prairie State Games included Derek Dixon of Lake Forest who won the gold at 125 pounds and Sherron Leggett of Zion who finished fourth at 145 pounds.

Antioch girls basketball tops summer league

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

The future looks promising for the Lady Sequoits basketball program.

Antioch's girls basketball team may not have won the conference crown and may have come up just short in the regional title last season, but the Lady Sequoits were tops in the Waukegan Summer League.

Antioch came from behind to nip Carmel 33-28 to secure sole possession of first place in the summer league standings. Both teams entered the final contest with 7-1 records.

"It was a good win because we were down by as much as 10 points, and the girls knew they had to win for first place," said Antioch Coach Dave Woods. "This gives us a lot of optimism heading into the basketball season next year."

The victory also served as a little payback as Carmel defeated Antioch 40-36 in the regional title matchup in February. Taking the point difference between the two games, Antioch now boasts a one-point advantage.

Familiar faces leading Antioch this summer included Erin O'Connell, Dana Pierson, Lisa and Mary Ipsen, Carrie Gofron, and Jeanna Miller. Up-and-coming players to look forward to in the fall included Joslyn McRae, Nicole Langley, Christa Wiewel and Marge Klepacki.

Coach Woods praised the team's performance in the 10-team league.

"The competition was stiff, but the girls played some really good basketball this summer," Woods said.

He added, "We probably spent the whole summer on shooting, and next year we're going to be quick. Anyone who I put out there is going to be able to score."

Look for the Lady Sequoits to be a force in girls North Suburban Conference basketball next season.

Indians close in on crown

Gurnee Indians returned home, playing one of few home games at Faulkner field Tuesday.

The Indians did not disappoint, with a 7-4 win over Highland Park. Starter Jay Geraghty gained the win as he improved his pitching mark to 4-0.

The win gives the Indians a 7-2 Shoreline record and needing only one of two wins at home against Zion and Kenosha July 26 and July 27. A victory would clinch a league title.

"I am happy with our offense. A lot of guys are chipping in," co-manager Chris Stranowicz said.

Lead-off man Rodney Williams was 3-of-3 with an RBI; Matt Pulaski was 1-of-4; Todd Staehle was 2-of-4; Bill Stranowicz was 1-of-2; Brett Spiller had 2-of-3. A four-run second inning gave Gurnee a 6-1 lead.

Three pitchers combined for 11 strikeouts.

The contest was the first in more than a week.

"You never know how you will respond. Either you will play bad, or you will surprise yourself," Bill Stranowicz said.

Salvi exploring possibility of U.S. Senate seat

NEAL TUCKER
Staff Reporter

After one of the largest margins of victory in the country in last November's election and steadily growing support around Illinois, state Representative Al Salvi (R-Wauconda) is dabbling with the idea of vying for a Senate seat in Washington D.C.

Salvi is forming the Al Salvi for Senate Exploratory Committee to explore the feasibility of becoming the Republican nominee for the U.S. Senate seat vacated by the retiring Paul Simon.

Salvi has already filed exploratory papers with the Federal Election Commission and the State Board of Elections. The way the political winds have been blowing, Salvi is confident of his chances.

"Looking in the long term, the best argument I have is I'm the most electable candidate in November," Salvi said, speaking of the 1996 election.

Salvi qualified his statement by referring to the landslide Republican success in the 1994 election. He said he embodies the same consistent conservative values that launched conservative victors in that election. Salvi warned not every Republican would deliver this philosophy to voters in the primary.

"We have to be sure we send the right kind of

'We have too many old bulls in the senate. We need new ideas. We need more courageous senators.'

— Al Salvi

Republican to Washington. Every bill I've ever voted for has been a smaller government bill," Salvi said.

Salvi said the number one item that distinguishes him from both Republican and Democratic opponents is the issue of taxes. He believes in smaller government with less taxes and says he has consistently voted anti-tax throughout his state political career. Rolled into this equation is his opposition to automatic spending increases built into government budgets. He suggests the best way to change this is to change the guard.

"We have too many old bulls in the senate. We need new ideas. We need more courageous senators," Salvi said.

Salvi scorned the current Senate for not passing the balanced budget amendment while praising the newly elected Republican House for getting the job done. With the country paying one third of its annual budget to interest payment for the national debt, Salvi believes the actions of the Senate to be inexcusable. In his opinion, even though the Senate has a slight Republican majority, many are moderate to liberal Republicans and do not stand for the same values for which the country is overwhelmingly voting.

"If they can't pass a balanced budget amendment, it is time to make some replacements," Salvi said.

Salvi said he will decide by mid-September if he will make a run for the U.S. Senate. The decision will be influenced by the level of support he receives across the state as well as his ability to raise money for campaign expenses.

Community pride helps Antioch economy grow

Part two in a five part series

CLAUDIA M. LENART

Regional Editor

Lying in the far northwest corner of Lake County, Antioch might not be the first town new business would consider when starting up or relocating. Yet this charming lake town has been attracting more than its share of industry and business in recent history.

Just this year two major industries took up residency in the village, Janis Plastics and Chicago Cutlery. A new car dealership was issued a site permit and numerous specialty shops and restaurants opened in the downtown area.

"A community such as Antioch is in a growth stage," said Community Development Director Claude LeMere. "It can be very painful for a community. People who have lived here for years and years would like to see it stay the same. But that's not realistic. If you see CHAIN page B2

Fox Lake begins to reap long wait for business

TINA L. SWIECH

Staff Reporter

The Village of Fox Lake seems to be developing economically at a fairly sudden rate, almost as if it has been resting comfortably, waiting for something to happen.

Building commissioner Ken Buchardt agrees. He says Fox Lake was waiting patiently for the right investors to come along. Now the town is literally booming with new commercial businesses.

Several projects that are changing the face of the characteristic recreation town include some shops that officials are hoping will make the town even more appealing. And others, will bring convenience to shoppers who often must travel to other areas to get that certain item.

The building permit issuance in Fox Lake has skyrocketed. Buchardt said May was a banner month. A total of 84 permits were issued during that month. "I anticipate even better months (ahead)," said Buchardt.

Fox Lake Economic Development Commission chairman Dr. Don Klusendorf said some of the philosophies of the EDC include building collaborative networks among organizations in town.

While the EDC is an advisory arm of the Village of Fox Lake, it has provided a number of ideas and inspiration to the village.

"We're enthusiastic about a main street program," said Klusendorf, regarding the downtown area.

location to a spot of its own down the road, Lakeland Plaza on Grand Ave. and Rollins Rd. didn't suffer too badly.

Within months, the plaza owned by Dwight Yackley moved in a new five-screen movie theater from Classic Cinemas which made its grand opening July 14.

The plaza also holds the home for C. Lerner, a mini factory outlet mall which had its grand opening in July. It is located in the former Sears store at the west end of the plaza.

The growth at the plaza is helping to make up for several vacancies at the site which lost some big chains such as the Globe, Sears, Hallmark, and the Walgreens store.

Lakeland Plaza may also undergo an exterior facelift within the next year, say officials.

State Route 12 in Fox Lake is booming with new businesses.

The new Walgreens home is on the main highway, just south of the downtown area. A Block Buster video store currently under construction will be right across the street from Walgreens.

A "big deal" coming to Fox Lake is a Menards home center to be built at the corner of routes 12 and 134.

Menards is to be the anchor for more stores to come at the 38-acre site.

Earlier this year, the Fox Lake Animal Hospital moved and constructed a new building just down from its old location on Rte. 12.

The former Phillips 66 gas station just north of the downtown district is having a complete makeover. Plans are to add a See FOX LAKE page B2 stand still, you fall behind."

LeMere, along with the village board and a slew of volunteers involved in committees and business groups are determined to make sure Antioch does not fall behind. "I want Antioch to have the best. I want this community to have every advantage and that's the feeling of this administration."

But the aim to grow is not just for growth's sake.

"Economic development, when properly controlled will create a well balanced economy with a strong tax base and ultimately provide tax relief for residents," said Mayor Marilyn Shineflug. "It will also provide a variety of jobs and shopping alternatives to allow residents to meet most of their needs close to their homes."

Antioch is not content to just open its arms and wait for business to come knocking at the door; the village has adopted a very proactive stance in attracting new business.

Two years ago, when Shineflug was first elected, the village board established an Economic Development Commission and hired the Community Development Director to work full time on building every aspect of the community from industry to community pride.

"A lot of communities let their businesses go until all the stores are vacant," said Tom O'Malley, chairman of the Antioch EDC. "But Antioch takes a more preventative approach and the mayor established the commission to go after business as opposed to waiting for it. It's a lot easier to attract business to a community that is healthy."

The various groups responsible for Antioch's success include an aggressive village board, an active Chamber, an involved retail group — CAN (Community Action Now), volunteers who serve on the Redevelopment Commission and EDC and many more clubs and volunteers who help out on special events.

"Antioch has got a tremendous heart. There isn't a project

'A community such as Antioch is in a growth stage. If you stand still, you fall behind.'

— Claude LeMere

this community can't do," LeMere said.

"It's like links in a chain," said O'Malley. "Everything from CAN to the Chamber to the Redevelopment committee. All are clicking at the same time. There's good chemistry between the organizations."

The next big project on the horizon for the EDC is a plan for a health care center in the village. Members of the EDC did much of the legwork on this project, calling and meeting with hospital groups from throughout the metropolitan area. Negotiations on a site in the village are currently underway. If all goes well the center could bring a staff of 150 to 170 people and attract as many as 600 patients to the village each day.

"It would be a tremendous boost for the village. It would be like giving a triple bypass to the downtown district," said LeMere.

The health care center would be the first big project for the EDC in the area of professional services. The other two areas the EDC works with are industrial and retail/commercial development.

The focus of the downtown retail district has changed over the years from the days when stores such as Globe and Sears were the main attractions to the current focus on specialty stores.

"The retail community made the decision that we are going to make a stand for small business here," said LeMere. "No matter what the Gurnee Mills and the big malls do, they were going to make this community a thriving retail area."

Again, the Antioch retail community doesn't just open its doors and wait for shoppers to arrive. The merchants are involved in a year-round schedule of events from Taste of Antioch to Halloween Howl to Christmas celebrations designed to attract people into the community. The village has also sponsored auto sales events and craft fairs. Community Action Now provided the funding behind the beautification of the downtown district.

O'Malley said area retailers are very supportive of each other. "They know if they support each other and retain business, it helps keep business strong in downtown," he said.

The village has already seen success with industries which have relocated to town. The next big project in that area would be an industrial park. LeMere said a couple of different areas are currently being researched.

While a lot is happening in terms of economic growth in the village, those involved feel it's important to keep the character of the village intact.

"What I enjoy most is sitting and talking to the old timers. We're always trying to keep that , the flavor of what this community is all about in mind when planning for Antioch. We've got to have a mix so that everybody's happy. Yes there will be growth. Yes there will be change, but it all has to mesh," said LeMere.

convenience store.

Taking the place of a rundown former tavern will be a new restaurant on the corner of Rte. 12 and Kings Rd.

Village trustee Jim Segin and village planning board member Bill Falster will open the restaurant which will be named "Choo Choo."

Segin, the liaison between the village and the EDC said his visions for Fox Lake include a very different town than the one today.

He does though, believe Fox Lake will remain a resort area, getting even larger in that department one day.

Segin feels that time restraints and economics will be very important for residents of the Chicagoland area who want a place to get away to quickly. Fox Lake, said the trustee, would be perfect for this.

"I believe the atmosphere of the community and the present administration is a 'can do' combination," Segin said. "We are moving forward, not back."

"The future of Fox Lake is going to change, and all for the betterment of the community," added the trustee.

CLC board chairman receives service award

James Lumber, chairman of the College of Lake County Board of Trustees, has received a Silver Anniversary Trustee Medallion from the Illinois Community College Trustees Assn. (ICCTA). The honor recognizes Lumber's 25 years of service as a trustee at CLC. He is one of only 11 trustees statewide to receive the honor during the ICCTA's annual convention. Lumber is a founding board member and the first board chairman at CLC. He has been an elected member throughout almost all the college's history. He is the mayor of Round Lake and a practicing attorney in Antioch.

The Silver Anniversary Trustee Medallion is a one-time award only presented to currently serving trustees who were also members of their local community college boards at the time of ICCTA's founding in 1970. The ICCTA is a state organization whose members are trustees from 40 public community college districts in Illinois. It serves as the voice of the state's community college boards.

AT A GLANCE

Sewer connection to go south

FOX LAKE—The Village of Fox Lake approved to hire Smith Engineering of McHenry to perform the engineering work to extend sewer and water lines south of the town to Rte. 12 and 134, the formerly known Kanzler property. A Menard's Home Center is planned to go in to the site on the northeast corner, and according to village trustee John Erdman, "We have to get water and sewer down there." The hookup will come from the Fox Lake Sanitary District, and engineering costs will be around $73,400. Cost to run lines are estimated at $600,000.

Matney indicted for murder

HAINESVILLE—A man who implicated himself in the slaying of a 47-year old subject on the Metra railroad tracks, has been indicted on two counts of first degree murder Wednesday. Assistant States Attorney Jim Simonian said Hainesville resident Gary Matney, 34, will be arraigned in the Lake County courtroom proceeding by Judge Charles Scott July 27 for the July 7 murder of Ronald Pecore, 47. There is a fine line between the two counts of murder Matney is charged with, said Simonian. The first count is for the "intent to kill," and the second is because Matney knew his actions would create a strong probability of great injury to Pecore and cause of his death. Pecore's last address was at a friend's home in Lake Villa, however he sometimes resided at his brother's house in the Chain O' Lakes area. According to police, at the time of his death he had set up camp in a farm field near some woods to the west of the Avon Township maintenance garage.

Few admit to septic failure

ANTIOCH—Those who turned out for the Stormwater Management Commission's flood mitigation plan meeting came armed with pictures and stories of road and home flooding. However, residents with septic system failures were curiously absent. "The whole reason we are doing this is to take a regional look to identify the problems," said Alan Schlindwein of the Stormwater Management Commission. As a result, the Commission may be looking towards another meeting in Antioch Township sometime in the fall.

Gurnee parcel plan improves

GURNEE—Discussion continued regarding a 40-acre parcel next to Gurnee Mills whose developers wish to annex to Gurnee boundaries. Plan commission members were generally pleased with the new plan for the land presented by Alan Enbinder and Gerald Meister of Meister Development.

"You definitely are headed in the right direction," commissioner Steve Kaplan said.

Key questions were lot size, three-car garages and density. Approximately 94 single family lots are planned. More than 100 were originally planned.

Bridge deck to be revamped

GURNEE—Gurnee residents may find the walk over the Des Plaines River bridge a little safer next year. The village has authorized a letter of understanding with Illinois Department of Transportation regarding a new deck configuration at the Des Plaines River and Route 132.

"This is something we have been working on for two years," Gurnee Admin. James Hayner said.

The project includes replacing the superstructure and deck of the bridge. It will be widened to 73 feet, 14 feet to accommodate bicyclists, a through traffic lane in each direction and a railing configuration with a bicycle rail along the outside of the sidewalk.

Dumpster fire solves arson

MUNDELEIN—On July 21, Gurnee Police arrested two 24-year-old Mundelein individuals for setting a dumpster on fire. Through further investigation the officers found a news clipping in the wallet of one of the individuals about a fire in Mundelein at the Carmel High School. The two individuals were then questioned about the Mundelein fire and admitted to setting the fire and damaging the school. Arrested for criminal damage in the school on April 3, 1994 and the arson of two trailers on April 10, 1994 were Keith A. Johnson, 24, 2013 Westfield, Gurnee and Keith R. Anhold, 24, 634 Wilbur Ct, Gurnee. The two individuals were taken to a bond hearing at Lake County by the Gurnee Police Department and are each being held on a $500,000 bond.

LHS monitoring Ft. Sheridan

LIBERTYVILLE—A proposal by the Fort Sheridan Joint Planning Committee for a forest preserve golf course, historical preservation site and an upscale residential community on the former Army installation has raised eyebrows at Libertyville High School Dist. 128. A Chicago developer wants to relocate 350 families now living on the site in order to develop the site. Landlocked conditions in Highland Park and Lake Forest makes Green Oaks and Libertyville as potential sites to relocate families. Already crowded school conditions at LHS has school officials concerned what impact 350 new families would have on the school district.

RL Heights builds pond

ROUND LAKE HEIGHTS—Construction began this week to build a 3-acre retention pond behind the village hall in Round Lake Heights. The pond aims to provide storm water and flooding relief for residents living in Round Lake Heights and portions of Round Lake Beach. The entire $450,000 project is being funded by a federal block grant the village applied for after the 1993 floods. Some questions were generated whether the pond was being built over a toxic dump, but the village received all the necessary permits from the Army Corps of Engineers, Storm Water Management Agency and the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency before breaking ground. A former gas pump and tank on the site were removed over five years ago.

Villages sign sewer pact

GRAYSLAKE—After months of negotiation, the villages of Grayslake and Hainesville have signed an agreement to compel developers to pay for increased sewer services in the Village of Hainesville. As development in the village of Hainesville increases, so does the need for capacity of the county sewer interceptor, which carries waste from Grayslake to the North Shore Sanitary district in Gurnee. Instead of the county billing the village governments for the need to add capacity, the agreement agrees to have developers in the Village of Hainesville pay the costs associated with their home sites. The agreement also requires from developers the payment of school impact fees and provides for bike trail construction. The area of Hainesville included in the agreement lies between the Village of Grayslake, Hainesville Rd., Washington St. and Rte. 120.

Arrest made in drug bust

HAINESVILLE—A man who stored three pounds of cannabis in a rural Lake Villa storage facility has been arrested while staying at a friend's home in Hainesville. Metropolitan Enforcement Group officers arrested Round Lake Park resident Alexander Delassantos, 22, after an investigation performed by Lake County Sheriff's detectives.

The presence of the cannabis was first discovered earlier this month after a renter at Sterling Storage, on Rte. 45 just north of Washington St., called the facility's owner to complain someone had broken into her compartment. The Lake County Sheriff's Department was immediately called. Upon further inspection, deputies discovered the compartment had been compromised to allow concealed access to other compartments.

When deputies determined nothing in the neighboring compartments had been disturbed, they called drug-sniffing dogs to the scene. The dogs focused on one storage compartment two rows away from the break in. Delassantos has been charged with possession of cannabis with intent to deliver, a Class 2 felony, and could be sentenced for three to seven years in prison. A spokesman for the sheriff's department confirmed Delassantos has prior arrests on cannabis possession.

Village elects acting president

NORTH BARRINGTON—Senior Trustee George E. Larrain was elected by the board to serve a two-year term as village president, following the untimely death of President Walter R. Clarke, Jr. earlier this month. Larrain will serve as acting president through the spring of 1997, when a two-year term for president will appear on the ballot.

County officials take tour of new juvenile jail

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

County commissioners received a firsthand look at the Lutheran General Recovery Center, which is soon to be the home of the new juvenile justice detention center in Lake County.

The county purchased the 15.8-acre site and facilities tucked away along the Des Plaines River for $3.1 million. The site is situated between Lincolnshire and Vernon Hills. Officials said the county will spend an additional $3 million to upgrade the facility and to build an additional wing for a 48-bed juvenile detention jail.

Currently, the facility has four separate wings. One wing will house two courtrooms and offices for judges, the district attorney and the public defender. Another wing will be devoted to juvenile services such as classrooms and medical needs. A third wing contains 16 beds and will be the new home of the Women's Residential Services program, which provides support for mothers who have drug or alcohol problems. Use of a fourth wing is yet to be determined.

County Chairman Robert Depke noted that no immediate plans are in the making for traffic court facilities. He said a separate committee is investigating other options for a separate traffic court facility in southern Lake County.

Much of the infrastructure such as sprinkler systems, air conditioning in the WRS wing and a fully-equipped kitchen within the facilities remain in tact. A plush dining room area will be converted into a lobby.

"This is done as far as we are concerned, except maybe some bedroom work," Depke said.

Jim Janda, Lake County facilities manager, said an entire new wing will be built for the juvenile justice center and extra landscaping will be added to screen the facility from Milwaukee Avenue. Parking will be expanded to 200 spaces.

Recreational facilities available on the site include a gymnasium, baseball fields and an outdoor challenge course near the river.

Janda said approximately 25 percent of the property lies in unbuildable wetlands or floodplains.

"It's not buildable, but that doesn't mean it can't be used for additional recreational uses," Janda said.

He said the county will abide by all state and federal security codes for a medium to maximum security detention center.

"Whatever we do will be far superior than what we have on Grand Avenue," said Janda, who was referring to the current 18-bed Hulse Center in Waukegan.

He noted that the county will shy away from fencing and barbed wired in order blend in better with the surrounding upscale developments in Lincolnshire.

"The whole intent of this is to create a low impact on the surrounding area," Janda said. "There will be serious checkpoints and other security measures. You won't see it, but it will be there."

In terms of suffering, Rte. 53 spells disaster

BILL SCHROEDER
Publisher

Mundelein Village Manager Ken Marabella, dean of Lake County village administrators, grimaces as he gestures toward a weedy swath angling in a north-south direction.

"That's a 300-foot wide stretch, where Rte. 53 is going if and whenever it's built."

Marabella has been dealing with the controversial highway for what seems to be a lifetime. The kindly, soft-spoken professional has been called a liar, a stooge, a manipulator, an apologist—and worse—by opponents who view the proposed tollway as the "Highway to Hell."

Fact is, Ken would like to see the whole complicated mess go away. But as a responsible public official he has to look out for the best interests of his community.

By now, Marabella is used to taking onlookers on "The Tour," points of interest how Rte. 53 would slash through a modern suburb of fine homes and families living the American Dream in a progressive community.

The trip is a preview of ugliness and future devastation. If there are any benefits to Rte. 53—that's highly debatable—they'll accrue to others, not those in the pathway like the residents of Mundelein, Hawthorn Woods and Long Grove.

Commuters in Libertyville, Grayslake, Antioch, Lake Zurich and other Lake County neighbors can smugly proclaim, Rte. 53 is needed. That's the price of progress. Maybe. But don't tell that to homeowners facing a tidal wave of destruction.

As for Village Manager Marabella, the worst is yet to come if the high and mighty in state government and the Illinois Tollway Authority divine that the Rte. 53 extension must be built.

In terms of human misery, the construction of Rte. 53 looms as the worst disaster to ever hit Lake County. The captain of the Titanic had it easy.

STRANGE FARE—A glance at what one of the big city dailies offered as "local news" the other day provided the answer why so many readers enjoy the hometown product you have in hand or other news weeklies published throughout the Chicago area.

The downtown editors presented stories about 22 heat-related deaths, a 35-year term ordered in the killing of a drug dealer and an update on the trail of a religious fanatic who stabbed a four-year-old boy to death. Pretty grim stuff. What a way to start your morning.

*****
COMING BACK—On the issue of wetlands preservation, State Sen. Bill Peterson (R-Prairie View) has carved a win-win position. Peterson is to be applauded for planning another bid to protect wetlands after getting shot down by developers, owners of vacant land and politicians tied to pro-growth forces.

Wetlands preservation is a popular issue in the 26th Dist. served by Peterson which includes the Barrington and Lake Zurich area, Wauconda, Fremont, Grant and Avon Townships and part of Vernon Township where Peterson resides.

Peterson's proposal provides for a permitting process, mitigation machinery and a compensation fund, altogether a sensible and workable approach to preserving what's left of Illinois wetlands.

ENJOYING LIFE—Ron Coles, a former Lake County Board chairman and a one-time powerhouse in county politics, chuckles over his current campaign, trying to pry open the iron-clad fence utilities and cable companies have built around customer "service" facilities. "Ever try to talk to a human being when you call for service? Impossible. I'm fed up with recorded messages," Coles says, shaking his head.

Coles, who has been in private business for more than a decade, has a word of advice to office holders who get consumed with the trappings of authority and their own self importance. "Get out in time to enjoy your family and your life." Sounds like Ron might be a proponent of term limitation.

Legal nightmare: TIF law abuses

Tax increment financing (TIF), a legal device permitting local government to partner with private interests for economic enhancement, is a good idea gone bad.

Conceived as a means to turn blight into beauty and jobs, TIF's have been subverted and abused by sharp promoters teaming up with greedy property owners to lead go-go local officials astray on a misguided path of economic development.

In the intended use, TIF's are a useful mechanism providing down-trodden neighborhoods with a bootstrap to respectability and productivity. In the unintended use, TIF's provide developers with the patently unfair advantage of under market-financing plus governmental sanctioned leverage in implementing building and zoning laws.

The insidious thing about TIF's is that they are driven by a tax freeze provision that deprives local taxing bodies, principally schools, with valuable revenue enhancement. When a TIF is employed, the growth factor in assessed valuation on which real estate taxes are computed, is utilized to pay off bonds issued by the sponsoring municipality to defray costs of infrastructure improvements.

When non-tax or low tax producing property is improved by a TIF, the ends justify the means. When misused and abused, the TIF becomes an instrument of municipal mischief and private gain.

TIF's have been popping up all over the suburbs in recent years when municipal fathers are willing to wink at the purpose of restoring sub-standard property to productivity. A developer was out to TIF a project in Lake Forest, hardly a deprived community. Because of inherent unfairness to other local businesses and the freeze on taxes, there should be no tears shed in Fox Lake where a TIF being employed to provide some of the financing for a multi-million dollar 100-unit hotel and a residential complex was voted down last week by a narrow 3-2 margin. The vote can be regarded as a ploy to test the waters of public opinion. There is reason to believe that the TIF scheme will be reintroduced.

The Fox Lake project is being orchestrated by Nick Trkla, who has a reputation as a TIF guru after pulling off special tax deals in other suburbs. Beneficiary of the TIF would have been Robert MacNeal, operator of Holiday Park, owner of one of the largest crane rental businesses in the Chicago metropolitan area and a Republican party benefactor.

TIF's in places like Lake Forest and Holiday Park are a miscarriage of justice. It's high time the Illinois General Assembly eliminates tax increment financing abuses or does away with a law that now is being used in a manner never intended.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Tax cap in jeopardy

Editor:

I urge you to call Governor Edgar's office and tell him not to sign Senate Bill 368. This bill has the potential of gutting the tax cap law as it allows schools, parks, the county and municipalities to reissue debt as it is paid off without the referendum procedure established by the tax cap legislation.

I am sure that this blatant end run around the cap would cost more than any interest increase that may or may not be incurred by villages such as Libertyville.

I do know that when a bond or portion is retired, there would be a great chance that the taxing body would simply re-borrow the funds, thereby in effect increasing your tax bill!

There is the assumption that all of our local government taxing bodies are "fiscally prudent." I make the assumption that we know better how to spend our tax dollars and if they want more of them, then they should make their case and let us decide based on the facts. It worked for the $30 million for the forest preserve, $10 million for Hawthorn schools, $8.4 million for Lincolnshire schools and so on. It failed for the juvenile detention center because it was simply too costly, not because we didn't know what we were voting on as many in government would have you believe.

Board can't be trusted

Editor:

Woodland Dist. 50 Board of Education seems to be mismanaging the school district.

The board's apparent lack of innovation, adaptation to change and appreciation of needs may result in compromise of the future of our children and our community. The board president stated that "We are all concerned about taxes, but this is the only option." There are other options for dealing with growth, if the board is willing to explore them.

Given these problems with the board, it appears unwise to approve a referendum to support a new middle school, which may be only a quick fix. The board does not appear to be sufficiently trustworthy to justify giving it more money.

As developers build new subdivisions, impact fees for the school system are assessed. It is not clear whether the board has lobbied for increases in these impact fees to cover the cost of a new school—after See LETTERS page B5

PARTY LINES

Hawthorn Schools awaiting $1 million groundbreaking for Gregg's Landing

Party Lines, the Lakeland Newspapers column of political commentary, is prepared from staff reports.

Hawthorn School Dist. 73 Superintendent Jess Porres said he is patiently waiting for construction crews to break ground for the Gregg's Landing development on the former John F. Cuneo Estate in Vernon Hills. Developers received village and County blessings in June to go ahead with the largest development (2,100 units) in Lake County history. Through negotiations, Hawthorn School and Vernon Hills officials whittled out a $2 million deal for up-front school donations to Dist. 73.

The first $1 million payment will be made when construction crews dig the first spade into the ground. "That's a million-dollar shovel," Porres remarked. Another $1 million installment will be made a year after the first payment.

Party Lines suggests saving the shovel for when the district will have to make building additions to accommodate the new students to be generated from the development.

Short-changed—Lake Zurich Mayor Deborah A. Vasels was disappointed when board members approved a revised development plan to build single-family homes and townhouses at Oakwood and Midlothian roads.

"We fell short of doing our job," she said. Trustees approved the plan as a settlement, which reduced the number of townhomes and increased the number of homes, which officials said will only increase the number of students and add to the annual costs of Lake Zurich schools. While the village retained its financial package, it reneged on having large lots bordering Hawthorn Woods, Vasels said. School administrators told the village townhomes were preferable, as they produced the least amount of children. If the settlement was not approved, the village and Terrestriis would have faced off in court proceedings which were scheduled to begin July 20.

Vasels

Taj Mahal' Jall—County Commissioners toured the site where a new 48-bed juvenile justice detention center will be located nestled in the back woods along the Des Plaines River near Vernon Hills.

Commissioner Judy Martini of Antioch said the site would be like the "Taj Mahal" compared to the current 18-bed facility at the Hulse Center in Waukegan.

Commissioner Angelo Kyle, who took time to shoot some baskets in the gymnasium, said it would be a great place to live. Eh? This is suppose to be a jail.

Resident gives unwelcome advice—Resident Jim Lohenry-Walton was bold in giving advice to the Fox Lake Village Board. He made a suggestion that the board seek referendums when it comes to issues like the Holiday Park hotel plan, and a riverboat casino, both issues highly supported by Mayor Ken Hamsher. The mayor quickly looked at Village Clerk Sue McNally and asked, "When is the next election?" Then he proposed the resident run for election on the board the next time around, "Because you've got some very good ideas," he told Lohenry-Walton. While scratching his head, the resident replied, "I think I would like to, mayor." Hamsher quickly reminded the resident he had only one minute left to speak and he'd better make it snappy.

In the lead—Rep. John Porter left no doubt when addressing members of the media who he believes will be leading the country in 1996—Bob Dole. Porter considers Dole the clear-cut leader for the GOP and left know doubt he has Porter's vote. Porter also supported Dole in the 1992 primaries.

Urging leader to fight—Hundreds of petitions signed by students, faculty and staff at Barat and Lake Forest Colleges have been sent to Rep. John Porter (R-10th) urging him to protect higher education funding from federal budget cutbacks. Porter has been a champion of high education issues in the past.

Mayor losing grip?—With the resignation of Round Lake Park Trustee June Bessert, it could leave Mayor Charlene Beyer's supporters in the minority. The Independent Action Party Trustees Jean McCue, Michael Stagner and George Scherer Jr. defeated the Residents United Building a United Future, favored by Beyer in the spring election. The new trustees now have the votes to block trustees Dennis Smith and Gerald Lolmaugh who were elected with Beyer in 1993. It will be interesting to see if a Beyer selection, an Independent Action supporter or a neutral candidate will take over the Bessert's position.

New faces—There'll be a lot of new faces the next few weeks at Republican headquarters on Peterson Rd. County Chairman John Schullen is getting volunteers to handle half-day stunts during the vacation season.

Consolation—Lake County residents tormented by the Pritzker family's plans to roof over, pave or fill in all their land holdings here have a small consolation. J.B. Pritzker, 30, is bent on a career in politics, not land development. J.B. is an insider on Democratic leadership for the 21st century.

Young Pritzker is part of the line forming to succeed Congressman Sid Yates, the ancient Chicago Democrat who is one of the oldest members of Congress.

Secret meetings—Speaking of the Pritzkers, their minions have been holding secret meetings with Baxter aides on trading county sewer service for development rights on land now used by the sprawling company on Wilson Rd. for septic seepage.

Lincoln impersonator—Former Democratic State Treasurer Pat Quinn will do anything to further his personal ambitions. Now he's invoking the memory of the greatest Republican of them all, Honest Abe, to get foes for the Senate nomination to adopt his "Land of Lincoln Pledge," a voluntary cap on campaign spending of $1 million and a series of seven dates across the state.

Bad news—Ouch. This is ugly. Reports have sprouted in the Round Lake area that teachers are talking strike again if financial demands aren't met. November is the target date. Parents are responding with a uniform question, "How much more can the kids take?"

Letters

all, the developers are the ones making a profit on the residential growth and should be expected to bear a portion of the burden they cause. Once these impact fees are paid to the board, the funds should be appropriately invested, as any prudent consumer would do, such that the board can increase their funds to build a school.

The board should consider acquiring new lands to build schools. The board believed that no land in the district was available for purchase. This is entirely incorrect and seems to show that the board is completely out of touch with the community.

The school system needs to be improved. The first element that should be changed is the board.

Helmet use questioned

Editor:

Those who would force motorcyclists to wear helmets do nothing more than force their morality upon others.

Wearing helmets while riding a motorcycle is clearly an individual decision. Not only do those who believe in forced helmet use have no evidence to show it saves lives, they also have failed to show why our state and nation, faced with problems of crime, poor education and record budget deficits, should focus on telling people what to do with their own bodies.

Until government can show an ability to manage its own affairs, it should stay away from trying to manage individual's affairs.

Women being violated

Editor:

There are many who are supposedly fighting for the rights of women around the world, particularly for the rights of reproductive health and reproductive freedom. Often called feminists, they cry out for solidarity among women to stand up for the rights of their oppressed sisters.

I can't understand the silence of these people when there are women of the third world undergoing severe oppression and, once they find refuge in America, they are denied safe haven, held in prisons and detention, and face forced deportation. If these women and the others associated with them are truly standing for the rights of women, are truly concerned to see that reproductive health and freedom is guaranteed, then why have they not spoken out concerning the plight of the women in China?

What does reproductive freedom mean if not the right to bear children when one would wish and not be forced into sterilization or abortion if one already has a child? This one child policy in Communist China is a flagrant violation of the rights of women! The outrage of what is happening in that country is one violation of human rights that we hear almost nothing about. In addition, Chinese women who have escaped this totalitarian regime have been denied safe haven in the United States.

There are now a large group of Chinese women who are facing forced deportation even though they have been able to prove that they have been subjected to these violations of their human rights and will surely face forced sterilization upon their return to China.

Getting on course to navigate through Social Security system

Among the estimated 60 million calls that Social Security handles each year are questions such as:

- What are my rights as a widow or a divorced wife?
- What is the best way to get disability?
- When is the best time to file for early retirement?
- What is the best Medicare supplement to buy?

There are a number of ways to can get answers to questions such as these.

The first step should be to obtain a booklet on what benefits you are entitled to from your Social Security office.

If your questions aren't answered in the booklet, call the Social Security office at the toll free number 1(800)772-1213.

If your questions are still not answered to your satisfaction or you feel you need more than just what SSA employees can tell you, you can call a Social Security expert who can answer question, and offer advice and advocacy. One of these services established by two former Social Security Administration Managers, answers questions and concerns about Social Security and Medicare, is Government Benefits Information Services, Inc. The number is 1(900)773-4848 and the call is charged at a rate of $2.50 a minute, which is added on to their phone bill.

The average charge per call is in a range of $10 to $15. It is one way for callers with unanswered questions to receive expert advice about how to get the most from their Social Security investment.

APB: All Police Band shatters stereotypes

It used to be when you heard "all points bulletin" it meant an emergency had arisen, but now if you hear APB: All Police Band, you're in for a unique sound.

APB: All Police Band is comprised of nine members, seven of whom are law enforcement professionals. The Lake County-based band has been playing together for about four years now. The band plays a variety of music, including '50s through '90s rock blues and country. APB: All Police Band manager Mike Blazincic, Lake County Sheriff's corporal, said reaction to the band has been terrific but also surprising.

"People are amazed that cops know something else besides pulling people over or drinking coffee," Blazincic said. "We're unique in that the talent these guys have individually is tremendous."

Although the band members play on their own time, Lake County Sheriff Clinton O. Grinnell supports the philosophy of the band, which plays to benefit law enforcement and youth agencies throughout the See POLICE BAND page B11

Brothers in arms reunite after 50 years at Loon Lake

RHONDA HETRICK BURKE

Editor in Chief

"We grew up together, we were kids together. It's like having a reunion with brothers," said Wayne Martin.

For a brief afternoon the shores of Loon Lake were transformed into the South Pacific last week, as 10 men rolled back the clock 50 years and became boys again. The 10 were all members of the 91st Chemical Unit, a heavy motor outfit, based out of Schofield Barracks in Hawaii. They saw action from Pearl Harbor to the Philippines to the invasion of Okinawa.

"Our unit can claim the first bombing of the Pacific War," said Jack Fickel, who was 18 when the war started. "The first bomb dropped by the Japs as they approached Pearl Harbor was across the street from our barracks."

For those there on that fateful day, the memories will never fade.

"We were up on the plateau about 28 miles from the harbor, we could see the smoke rising up," said Adam Repsher, 78, of New Jersey. Repsher was in the first wave of draftees for the war.

The reunion, which has brought members of the unit together since 1954, was hosted this year by Lee Ipsen of Loon Lake. Each year a member of the unit agrees to be the host.

"It's great being the host," said Ipsen. "It's wonderful to bring the guys here."

Ipsen and his wife of 49 years, Gertrude, have attended most of the reunions over the years.

The number in attendance has diminished through the years, but the enthusiasm has not.

"We look at the same old albums and photographs each year and tell the same stories, but no one minds," said Martin. "We enjoy it more each year."

New items brought out for show this year were two small diaries penned by Wallace when he was stationed in the Philippines. The two diaries were given to Ipsen when he left for home and were re-discovered at this year's reunion.

"I saw Lee last year but he didn't know I'd be there, so this year since the reunion is at his home, he gave the diaries back."

The words that leap off the page tell the stories and thoughts of a young 20ish man, in-love with his pen pal (they met in New York after the War but it didn't work out) and eager to record the new worlds he was experiencing.

The diary details nightly pass words. They always began in the letter 'L' because the Japanese couldn't pronounce it according to Wallace. Some of the pass words were leaf lettuce and lover.

"I remember the people of the Philippines well," said Wallace. "The Japs had been there for three or four years by the time we were, there so they had been living in extreme circumstances. They had little food and no medical care, it was very sad."

One diary entry talks about conditions on the front, and how many reports indicated that deaths were being attributed to friendly fire.

"Friendly fire was always a problem," Wallace said. "We shot ammo that went more than 60 feet, often it was shot in front of our own men."

Wallace said he doesn't remember writing the diaries but the words rang clear to him as he re-read them for the first time that afternoon.

"I was kind of silly about that girl," he recalled. "I guess I thought I was in-love, I carried her photo around."

His wife of several years was enjoying reading the stories as well.

"She's getting a kick out of these diaries," said Wallace. "It's a part of me she didn't know."

Lee Ipsen (left) and Andy Wallace hold a diary which Wallace had been keeping during the war. Ipsen, who promised to take the diary home with him upon his departure from the company in 1945, finally returned it to Wallace this year.

The Chemical Unit pioneered many aspects of modern warfare.

"We were the prototype for the motor rifle," said H.C. "Hoby" Van Deventer. "We started flame throwing and other weapons experiments."

Al Bell was a staff sergeant in the war and later became a warrant officer completing a 20-year career in the Army.

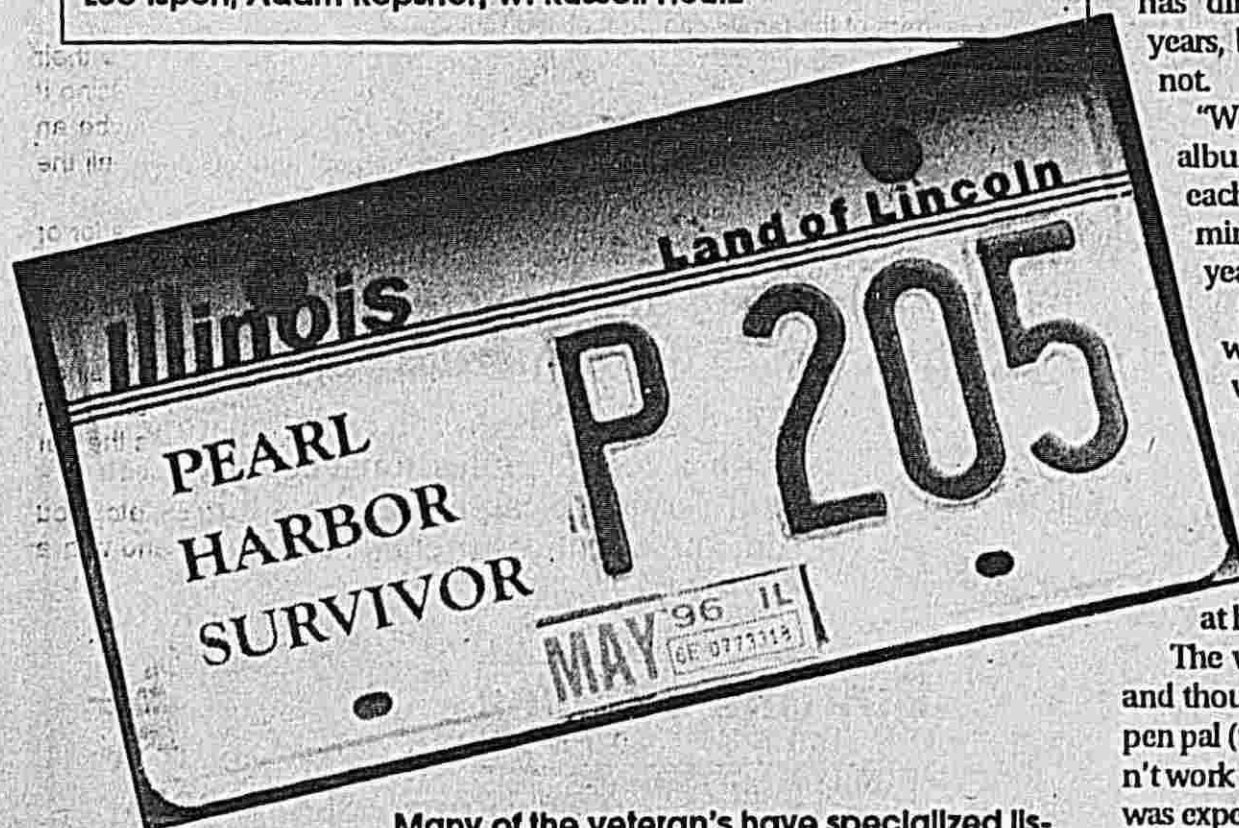

"(Maurice) Scripture and I were in boot camp together. We came to Hawaii on the same boat," said Bell.

Repsher, Scripture and Bell joined the reunion group for the first time three years ago.

"It was the first time I'd seen Scripture since the war," Bell said. "Now we're getting caught up with one another."

The group holds a prayer for unit members who never came home and who are no longer able to make it to reunions on the first night of each get together.

"Our experience is our common thread," said Van Deventer.

Many of the veteran's have specialized license plates honoring their service in Pearl Harbor.

COLLEGE OF LAKE COUNTY FALL CLASSES

Learning new TECHNOLOGIES

How do you stay competitive in today's job market?

Loss of a job due to downsizing is a very real fear for people in today's work place. When it happened to Joseph Johnson after 14 years as a machinist, he began a search for another position.

What he found was that things had changed—new skills, especially those with computers, were needed.

"I went to the College of Lake County and took computerized numerical control, along with a lot of other technical courses," said Joe, who now has a job he likes and the confidence in his skills to know he can compete in today's demanding job market.

We offer the solution at the College of Lake County.

If you're seeking to start a new career, update your skills or gain new ones, the College of Lake County can provide the training you need at a cost you can afford.

Registration for fall classes is underway. Classes start August 28, 1995.

Cruising Can Be A Family Affair

by JIM WARNKEN,
PRESIDENT, NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

My memories of childhood vacations include our happy family of five piling into the Ford station wagon for a week of fun, excitement, and lots of compromises.

First, we all had to agree on where we were going to stop for lunch. Then, was the debate as to which restaurant we would have dinner. By the time we were ready to stop for the night, the choice of motels became an all out war!

This need to compromise carried on through to all activities and sightseeing during the entire trip.

Not having to compromise may be one of the most attractive features of family cruising.

Today's modern superliners offer almost constant activities for all ages. All members of the family can do their own thing.

Dad and the boys may want to try trap shooting, or maybe practice their golf drive. Mom can try her luck at bingo, or maybe the slots in the casino if she feels really lucky. The girls can either head for the disco, or maybe an aerobics class or how about just lying around the pool and looking at all the cute guys.

If the kids don't want to eat with the adults, there's usually a pizza parlor or hamburger stand on the ship.

Even the youngest members of the family are not left out with their own kiddie pool, and youth counselors to help them with arts and crafts.

The cost of taking a family on a cruise may be less than you think, since regardless of which size cabin you choose, the third, fourth and fifth passengers pay the same low "extra person in cabin" rate. This puts the per person cost of even a suite within the range of many family budgets!

When you consider the cost of gas, food, entertainment, lodging, etc., you may just find a family cruise costing less than a trip to the Dells, and with a lot less family compromises!

CRITIC'S CHOICE

Faulkner's 'As I Lay Dying' takes journey through Depression-era Mississippi

In "As I Lay Dying," William Faulkner draws a bead on hard-scrabble America wrestling to survive in the Depression.

Director Frank Galati has taken this gritty novel, condensed it and transformed it into a stage version now premiering at Chicago's Steppenwolf Theatre.

A cast of 20 tells the story, set in downtrodden Mississippi in the early 1930s, of a family on a mission:

Addie Burden has died and her survivors are determined to carry out her last wish of being buried with her kinfolk 40 miles away.

But it's a daunting assignment, and in their epic-like journey the family encounters raging river waters and a sweeping barn fire. Buzzards follow the unkempt band and the decomposing corpse.

Through monologues, each performer airs his private guilts and emotional distress, much like Faulkner's stream-of-consciousness approach to storytelling.

Anse, the husband (played by Will Zahrn), for example, has her personal agenda for making the trip, namely to get a new set of teeth and to find another spouse. Daughter Dewey Dell (Mariann Mayberry), meanwhile, wants to terminate a pregnancy.

Ian Barford is Jewel, the bastard son who sells his prized possession so the family can hire a mule team to carry his mother's remains to her final resting place. Jeff Perry is Darl, the narrator and idiot savant through whom some of Faulkner's richest language flows. But especially strong performances come from Cynthia Baker as the late matriarch and Mark Vann as the local minister with whom she had an affair.

"As I Lay Dying" is not on as grand a scale as John Steinbeck's "The Grapes of Wrath," which Galati directed in 1990 to wide acclaim. The set is not as elaborate this time around, and the characters' sense of purpose is somehow less palpable.

But it's a worthy endeavor nonetheless, and a chance to see this play, which runs through Aug. 13, ought not be missed. Ticket information is available at (312)335-1650.—by TOM WITOM

LIFE'S A BEAR

DONNA ABEAR

Talk like a Midwesterner

Sigh. Remember what winter was like? Cool, white (OK, maybe just a spot or two of yellow), sparkling snow, covering the earth, your car and all those little bare spots in your lawn you've been meaning to fix. Those were the days, huh? Yes, there's nothing like a heat wave of 100 degrees plus to make winter sound appealing.

Actually, our region's extreme weather, ranging from cold that will stick your tongue to any flagpole, to heat that will makeover your makeup in seconds, is why we Midwesterners choose to live here. Not only do we have four seasons, we have four reasons to complain about the weather: 1. It's cold. 2. It's raining. 3. It's hot. 4. It's cloudy and windy. We never run out of good conversation:

"Whew! Too hot, isn't it?"

"You bet your #@* it is!", or

"Brrr! Too cold, isn't it?"

"You bet your #@* it is!"

With conversations like that, it makes you wonder why people would want to live anywhere else. Like San Diego, for instance, where the temperature is almost consistently in the 70s. It must get awfully boring there:

"Nice day, isn't it?"

"Yes."

Yawn. After 365 days of that conversation, you'd have to think seriously about heading north to Los Angeles, where you have smog, crime and the O.J. Simpson trial to talk about.

Our most recent weather here in the Midwest is providing plenty of conversation. In fact, I get a little suspicious of people who don't complain about the heat. These are usually the same people who can sit for an hour in the sauna at the health club, after which they emerge dry as a bone and ask, "So what was that supposed to do?" You know the type—they go jogging when it's hot enough to fry Eggbeaters on the sidewalk (have to keep down that cholesterol). I, on the other hand, merely walk out the door and, as soon as I'm assaulted by hot air, I fall to the ground, my clothes in a wrinkled heap, and scream, "I'm melting. I'm mllttttiiiiinnnggg!"

Which is why I love my air conditioning. LOVE it. And, of course, when the temperature turns 100 degrees, I thank God that I have air conditioning. Unfortunately, God is not the right person to thank for air conditioning—Commonwealth Edison is. They do not appreciate our thanklessness, so when the weather hits that 100 mark, the folks at Edison like to give us a gentle reminder about who really holds the power.

Com Ed folks: "Let's see—it's about 5:30. People are arriving home from work right about now and thanking God for their air conditioning. OK, Alvin—hit the switch! Even God can't help them now! Ha, ha, ha, ha, ha!"

We found this out the day when the temperature hit 106. We came home, tired and sweaty, only to find—NO ELECTRICITY. No air conditioning. What kind of a cruel joke was the electric company playing? Do they shut down the power when it's 75? Heck, no—they wait until the hottest day of the year!

Praying it would come back on soon, we took the family for hamburgers at an air-conditioned fast food restaurant, and then returned home. Still no power. There was only one thing to do—find an air-conditioned place to spend the night, a place where even Com Ed wouldn't dare to shut off the electricity. Suddenly, we smiled—who did we know that can strike fear into the hearts of even the largest monopoly's customer service center?

My mother-in-law, of course (more on her next week).

As we watched TV in comfort in her air-conditioned living room that evening, we did what all Midwesterners do when they're not complaining about the weather.

We complained about cable. "Can you believe this? A hundred channels and there's still nothing on TV!"

August is Maine Lobster Month

CLAUDIA M. LENART

Regional Editor

August is Maine Lobster Month and there's no shortage of new ways to enjoy this tasty treat since the Maine Lobster Promotion Council has come up with a collection of 31 recipes for each day of the month. Not only is Maine's lobster delicious to eat, it's also lower in fats, calories and cholesterol than the skinless white meat of chicken or turkey. A 3.5 ounce portion of lobster contains only 72 mg. of cholesterol, 98 calories and 0.1 gram of saturated fat. Maine lobster also contains omega-3, a substance that is believed to reduce the risk of heart disease.

For a collection of 31 recipes or a list of suppliers that ship Maine lobster, send a seal-addressed, stamped, business-size envelope to: "Maine Lobster Month," Maine Lobster Promotion Council, 382 Harlow Street, Bangor, Maine, 04401.

Police Band

county.

APB: All Police Band members do not play in their police uniforms, nor do they get paid. Any funds not donated to various law enforcement and youth agencies go toward purchasing a sound system for the band. Member Marty Smith, Lake County Sheriff's deputy, said band members all have their own equipment but don't have all the components needed for a public address system. "And our wives won't let us spend any more money," he said. "It takes about $15,000 to $20,000 for a good PA system, so we've been seeking out donations and borrowing various components from other bands."

Blazincic said the band started out as a "garage band" that first played at his home for a yard party. "Back then, we didn't have any keyboards or drums, and that day's weather was miserable, but we had a great time. After that, we jelled more as a band and added musicians."

The band has been going strong since then and had its first big gig in spring of 1992, a benefit for the Lake County Children's Advocacy Center. The band raised $1,000. APB also has played at several political fundraisers, including one for Illinois Gov. Jim Edgar.

Band members besides Blazincic and Smith are Rich Bilisko, Bob Byerly, Bill Bobrowski, Greg Reschke, all with the Lake County Sheriff's Office; Dan Colin Jr., son of Lake County Detective Dan Colin; Mike Smith, brother of Marty Smith; and Joe Perez, Illinois state trooper.

The band's next scheduled performance is from 7 to 9 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 1, at Shiloh Park in Zion. The band will perform as part of Crime Prevention Month in conjunction with the city of Zion, village of Winthrop Harbor and village of Beach Park's Candlelight Walk to heighten public awareness of crime. The concert is free to the public.

For more information, call Cpl. Blazincic at 360-5830.

Movie Pick

Despite nonsense, 'Siege' sequel scores slam

This summer's umpteenth action flick just opened. With Bruce, Stallone, Keanu, Arnold, Mel and Batman already grabbing their share of the movie ticket loot, who's left but Steven Seagal?

This reviewer is not a Seagal fan. Most of the time he's boring and just a bit too light and high spoken for the he-man daredevils he plays, with one exception, that is.

Seagal's "Under Siege" was not only his best picture, but one of the best action films of the last few years. Unlike many sequels "Under Siege 2—Dark Territory" lives up to its predecessor.

This time, our improbable Navy cook Casey is on a train traveling through lovely Colorado for a reunion with his niece. Lo-and-behold! This is the same train that terrorists, led by a mad scientist, Eric Bogosian, take command of. They get a hacker to break into the Pentagon's computer to commandeer a top secret weapon.

This fun group asks for the billion dollars, or else they will blow up the Pentagon, Washington D. C., New York and all points east.

The story-line is as believable as the plot of "Snow White." Just like it was in the first "Siege."

Remember when the beauty queen, who jumped out of the cake, grabbed an automatic weapon and started shooting like a professional commando?

Since the "Die Hards," "The Lethal Weapons" and anything Stallone does, all have plots full of reality holes, "Siege 2" upholds those same lacy standards.

Bogosian is an all right villain, but he isn't Tommy Lee Jones.

Seagal gets his year's quota of exercise running through, over and around the train, not to mention several karate encounters.

As usual, the powers that be in Seagal's promo department have anti-climaxed the film by running the climax of the picture in the TV promos — the head-on collision of two trains that leaves our hero to make a mad dash through the train with fire and the other train causing havoc right on his heels.

This is a better-than-average movie for action fans who love a myriad of explosions, crashes, quality kills, mayhem and seeing good triumph over evil, although the cost and amount of lives lost raises a "was it worth it?" question, as usual.

Seagal does not prance and growl like Stallone, but he seems to be treating the whole story with a tongue-in-cheek attitude, much akin to the comic relief Gibson and Willis use to perfection, only Seagal lays back with the ever-so-slightest smile on his lips. This is one of the best parts of the flick, at least he seems to be avoiding insulting our intelligence by taking the whole thing seriously.

Our rating for "Under Siege 2—Dark Territory" gives it four stars out of five. If you have the money, don't wait and see this one on tape, the special effects are spectacular on the big screen—by GLORIA DAVIS

Steitz Supper Club oldest on the Chain

John Steitz III is greeting guest today in the restaurant his family has continuously operated since the 1920s.

Upon entering the supper club, established by John III in 1989, patrons may feel as though they are stepping back in time to the 1930s. The history of the Chain O'Lakes area is evident through photos and artifacts displayed on the walls.

Steitz' enjoys a rich family history of patronage which is well-known to customers in the personal touch they provide.

The family originally purchased the land on Bluff Lake in 1914 previously owning the current sites of Lupa's and Mueller's. In 1928, John's great-grandfather, John Jurchik, sold the site and purchased the restaurants current location due to its higher ground.

John's grandmother, Sophie Steitz operated the facility from 1928-1973 with his father John Steitz, Jr. taking over the operation in 1973. He operated a thriving marina and boat refinishing business on the premises.

John III took over the business in 1989 and began the supper club.

"Andy 'Pierre' Trudeau was instrumental in talking me into doing my first fish-fry in the spring of '89," said Steitz. "The first week we cooked the fish with hot oil on the stove and by the second week we were able to purchase a French-fryer."

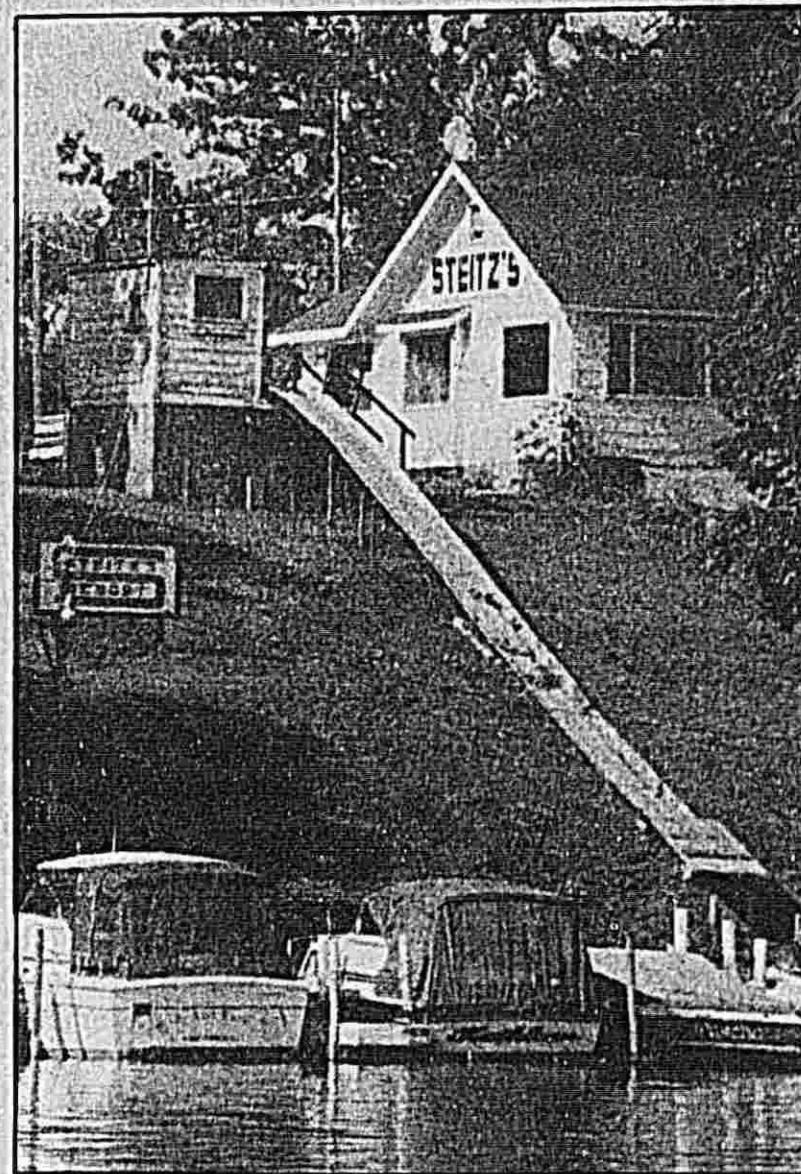

Since 1989, Steitz' Supper Club has been known throughout the metropolitan area for its fish fry and fish boil. Fish is the Friday feature and Prime Rib is the Saturday night special.

"We cut all of our steak by hand to order," Steitz said.

The Supper Club is also renown for its ribs and soups.

"Everything is homemade," Steitz said.

The Supper Club is open everyday except Tuesday. Hours Monday, Wednesday and Thursday are from 4:30 - 9 p.m., Friday 4:30- 10 p.m., Saturday 11 a.m.- 10 p.m. and Sunday 11 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Home-owned banks buck industry merger trend

Hometown banks such as Anchor Bank in Grayslake are flourishing in the market, despite the industry trend for mergers.—Photo by Neal Tucker

NEAL TUCKER
Staff Reporter

Home-grown community banks are flying in the face of the banking industry trend of corporate mergers by putting a friendly, hometown face to customer service.

The privately-owned banks are fighting against corporate banks, investment companies, insurance companies and mortgage brokers while corporate banks are predicting that the merger of First Chicago with NBD, the second largest merger in the history of banking, is the wave of the future.

"Everybody can do a bank's job but a bank can't do everybody else's job," said Tim Perry, vice president of branch operations for State Bank of the Lakes.

State Bank of the Lakes, a family-owned financial institution in Antioch since 1894, operates two newer locations in Lindenhurst and Grayslake. Perry said banking in general is difficult because it is the most federally regulated industry in existence. With federal regulations and mandates come extra and sometimes excessive costs. The answer for many financial corporations is to buy smaller banks and spread the drain of resources more evenly over more locations. However, that action sometimes does not come without a cost to the customer.

"I used to work for a bank that eventually became CoMerica Bank and the first thing we noticed is the hours got cut," said Erich Laumer, vice president and controller of Hawthorn Bank in Mundelein. Laumer was referring to the reduction in teller hours when his former bank became corporate.

The prime reason home-owned banks succumb to the pressures of buy outs, even when they are a viable institution in their own community, is that major players typically give them an offer they can't refuse. To make an immediate, good showing to stockholders after paying such a high price, the corporate entity must cut overhead staff. Superfluous administrative, marketing, and accounting staff are the first to be cut. The First Chicago merger See TREND page C2

Lake County firm staying on cutting edge

NEAL TUCKER
Staff Reporter

In London, a homemaker uses a knife to bone a chicken for the family dinner. In Paris, a chef uses a cutting block to prepare magnificent cuisine. In Los Angeles, a family keeps their knives in a convenient, custom made oak storage block.

Unbeknownst to them, these people have one thing common: each of their products was manufactured in Lake County by a firm that established roots here in 1967.

"Every knife you see anywhere in the world was made right here in Wauconda," said plant manager Tim Gertz, speaking about his Chicago Cutlery brand. With the company's new wood products division manufacturing plant in Antioch, the same will be said for cutting boards, wood storage blocks and all cutlery handles.

A high carbon, low chromium steel roll is delivered to the Wauconda facility, then stamped out, heated, then finished to make one of the most respected stainless steel blades in the consumer market today. The firm actually began as a knife-sharpening service on Clinton Ave. for a meat packing plant in Chicago. That knowledge was groomed to start a company designed to manufacture blades that held a long lasting edge.

The original owner of the company used to vacation on Wooster Lake.

"He just fell in love with the area," said Gertz, a Lake County native who began with Chicago Cutlery in 1973.

In 1967, the company built a building and moved to Wauconda. Up until two years ago, the firm bought all of its wood products, including its handles, from and outside source. Added expense and a slimmer margin were not the only reasons that practice needed to change.

"When the Wal-Marts of today give you three days to ship your product you have to respond," Gertz said.

Two years ago, Chicago Cutlery bought Idaho Woodworks, located in Sand Point, Idaho. Last December, Chicago Cutlery's parent company, General Housewares Corp. of Terre Haute, Ind. decided to move the operation closer to home. The company decided to locate the wood products division right here in Lake County, probably for the same reason the knife division has remained in Wauconda.

"Paul (GHC president) was very impressed with the building and the people so he decided to leave it here," Gertz said of the Wauconda plant.

After the decision was made to move the wood division, the foot race began to get set up and producing products by May. If that deadline were not kept, the company would not be able to fulfill all of its Christmas orders. Gertz said the Village of Antioch could not have been better to work with.

"If someone called me and asked me where to locate... you couldn't ask for a better community to work with. Antioch has just been phenomenal," Gertz said.

With the move to a 50,000 square-foot space in Antioch comes jobs for the area. The plant will need to employ 55 people See CUTLERY page C2

Cambridge Homes finalizes Lexington acquisition

Libertyville based Cambridge Homes, Inc. has finalized its acquisition of Arlington Heights-based Lexington Homes, Inc. from Westinghouse Electric Corp., according to Richard J. Brown, president and CEO of Cambridge Homes.

The acquisition gives Cambridge Homes ownership of Lexington's entire Chicagoland operation, including its nine current developments and land inventory. It also makes Cambridge Homes, Inc. one of the largest homebuilders in the Midwest and one of the top in the nation.

Cambridge and Lexington combined for sales of 1,531 homes in 1994, well above the single highest volume builder in Illinois. With Lexington, Cambridge now offers more than 100 different single-family and 50 multi-family home designs in 21 communities located throughout the entire Chicago area from Lake

—Richard J. Brown

County to Will County. Home prices range from just under $100,000 to more than $400,000.

"The acquisition of Lexington Homes is a great benefit to our company, especially in terms of our immediate quality growth. By virtue of the acquisition of Lexington, we have added nine communities with a plethora of new home designs in markets that are generally non-competitive with our existing communities. It is a nice match, and we are fortunate to be in this position," said Brown.

"Lexington Homes has a proven track record and has an excellent reputation. Our intention is not to take away what has worked for them. Our plan is that Lexington will continue to build and sell the same style of homes under its name. As the new owner, we view our role as being different from that of Westinghouse. With our expertise and many years of experience in home-building, we will be more involved in the management of Lexington," concluded Brown.

Models for sale at Sedgewood Cove

LINDENHURST—Five speculative homes in Phase 1 at the Sedgewood Cove community in Lindenhurst are now for sale. Located on the shores of Crooked Lake, Sedgewood Cove is a recreational community being developed by Northbrook-based Red Seal Development Corp. The community is an enclave of 134 single-family homes, many of which neighbor the community's nature preserve of mature oak and hickory trees. In all, about 85 percent of Sedgewood Cove's 76 acres are being maintained as open space.

to fill orders for this year. The Wauconda facility has a work force of 124 in 65,000 square feet. When Gertz came to the company 22 years ago it made 300 knives a daily compared to the 15,000 to 20,000 now.

The wood division has doubled in size since 1993. Gertz said the Antioch plant would put out 300,000 oak boards by the end of this year alone. The company also creates oak knife storage blocks and all the handles for the cutlery. The walnut handles alone will total seven million this year.

The only thing standing in the way of growth is finding a qualified work force. The Antioch plant employs 16 workers and is looking for 39 more. Gertz said the people are out there, it is just a matter of time to find them. What the company often does is take people with no prior woodworking experience and train them.

"People who want to work and learn. That's what we're looking for," Gertz said.

Trend

with NBD is expected to result in roughly 1,700 job cuts in the Midwest, primarily from the closing of redundant branches.

Though the corporate banks have resources the hometown banks can only dream of, the local institutions can do battle in ways the mega banks cannot compete with. The primary limitation of the larger corporate banks is the decision-making pipeline.

"A bank our size can serve a certain niche of customer better than a bigger bank can because we can turn on a dime and customize," said Laumer, whose bank has assets exceeding $30 million.

Perry, who admits his bank is getting a number of customer calls regarding bank mergers, agrees, "Every decision is reviewed or made in this bank. Every account is serviced right here in this community."

John Wolf, president of Anchor Bank in Grayslake, says the hometown bank is better equipped to handle what corporate banks see as the small customer.

"We do make smaller loans to people. We don't treat someone who wants a $10,000 loan as though they have the plague," Wolf said.

The hometown banks do exist in the 1990s, where convenience is as much a key as personal service. For example, Perry's bank has touch tone teller service so customers can check on account information via telephone. The bank also has a credit card it services in house.

Wolf believes customers still like to be known by name. They also like the convenience of coming to the bank when they have a problem, not dealing over the telephone with someone out of town or possibly out of state.

Perry predicts more home owned banks will spring up in Lake County, such as Lakeland Community Bank in Round Lake did a few years ago, because of the affluent customer base. Lake County is the second fastest growing county in the nation and is in the top ten in per capita income. For those same reasons, corporate banks will eagerly continue their merger attempts to get a hand in an already established deposit and loan base in Lake County's small villages. In Perry's words, that will not change what his bank is doing for its customer base.

"What we're trying to do is what we've done for 100 years. The one place we won't skimp in is front line customer service," Perry said.

Orren Pickell sweeps awards

The Concept House in Riverwoods, Orren Pickell Builders' state-of-the-art home that is drawing national attention, swept the awards in the $1 million and over category, including the top overall award of Best of Show, during the 1995 Lake County Area Tour of Homes. Orren Pickell Builders' residence The Manor at River Bend in Libertyville also won several awards during the event, making Pickell the top winner of the tour with a total of 10 awards.

"It is an incredible honor to receive these awards, especially Best of Show," said Orren Pickell, president. "For me, the tour awards are of the utmost significance as they are awarded by a panel of my peers from the building industry. The awards also pay tribute to the hard work that so many people put into making these homes truly outstanding."

The Concept House, located at 488 Thorngate Lane in the Thorngate subdivision, was cited for best of show as well as best exterior architecture, best interior architecture, best master suite, best kitchen, best interior merchandising and best overall landscaping.

The Concept House, one of the first residences in the country to successfully blend luxurious style with ecological function, is Custom Builder Magazine's 1995 Show Home. Designed and built exclusively by Orren Pickell Builders to represent the "home of the future," The Concept House is a 5,250-square-foot, $1 million plus home. The Concept House has been awarded the Good Cents Environmental Home designation as it significantly reduces the negative impact on the environment and curbs energy consumption. Its state-of-the-art kitchen features Wood-Mode cabinetry.

The Manor, located in Libertyville's River Bend community, was cited for best exterior architecture, best master suite and best kitchen in the $600,001 to $700,000 category.

A nine-room, four-bedroom, three-and-a-half-bath residence, the Manor is a sensitive blend of traditional English country architecture with French accents. The home offers 4,150 square feet of living space, a family room crowned by a vaulted ceiling and featuring a brick and stone fireplace and a striking white kitchen that, like The Concept House, features Wood-Mode cabinetry.

Award-winning builders of luxury custom homes in Lake County and on the North Shore, Orren Pickell Builders, Inc. is located at 175 E. Hawthorn Pkwy. in Vernon Hills.

Victory Memorial, Saint Therese fight breast cancer

The rate of late-diagnosed breast cancer among minority women in Lake County is higher than that in general female population.

This was a finding in a community health needs assessment initiated by the governing boards and leadership of Saint Therese Medical Center and Victory Memorial Hospital, both in Waukegan.

The targeted area consisted of the combined service areas of the two hospitals, primarily northern Lake County. A collaborative effort between the hospitals is underway to: Increase awareness of breast cancer; educate women at risk in the minority population; and promote the use of mammograms among minorities.

The hospitals offered an educational program and mammography screening conducted by trained nurses at four churches in Waukegan. The churches were Gideon Baptist, Immaculate Conception, Shalem Seventh Day Adventist, and Saint Joseph's and Saint Bartholomew's.

Breast self-exams and mammographies are the best methods to detect breast cancer and the medical community feels more than half the deaths could be prevented through early detection. Currently one in every nine women can expect to be diagnosed with breast cancer, and approximately 46,000 women a year will die of the disease.

For more information on this breast cancer education and detection program for minority women, contact Josette Griffith, Saint Therese Medical Center, 360-2181.

Dial Heartline for answers about heart disease, stroke

Two of the most common questions Chicago area residents have about heart disease and stroke are: How can I recognize a heart attack or stroke, and how can I prevent one? But what if you have a question about topics such as irregular heartbeats, estrogen replacement or cardiac and stroke support groups? The American Heart Assn. of Metropolitan Chicago has answers. By calling the AHA's Heartline, one can learn about a procedure or treatment or find out how to begin a heart-healthy lifestyle.

Some of the free brochures available include "Walking for a Healthy Heart" and the "Exercise Diary," which helps track progress. "About High Blood Pressure" explains how to control hypertension, and "How to Read the New Food Label" unlocks the mystery of "daily value" percentages.

Heartline calls are answered Monday through Friday at (312)346-4675 during business hours.

Lost a tooth? Time to grow a new one

The Academy of General Dentistry asks you to imagine this: Instead of using metal implants to replace a missing tooth, genes could be inserted into gum tissue cells to produce another tooth, reports AGD Impact, a publication of the Academy of General Dentistry.

A recent genetic discovery reported in the journal Science raises hope that adults will one day be able to grow in missing teeth instead of relying on dentures or dental implants. Scientists at the University of Basel, Switzerland, found the master control gene for the eye of a fruit fly. Researchers took copies of the gene and put them in places that would normally develop into wings, legs or other parts of a fly's body. Eyes bulged out everywhere the genes were placed.

Scientists have grown teeth in culture, raising the prospect that adults may be able to regenerate missing teeth. Current research may yield genetically engineered compounds to be added to toothpaste and mouthwash triggering genetic reactions against cavity formation.

The catalyst for these revolutionary changes is DNA. DNA is the gene code that is unique to each human and living creature. It is what makes every being an individual. By using DNA, scientists are able to isolate the enzymes and recombine them into new DNA sequences. So far DNA techniques developed over the past few years have been responsible for developing bacteria to human insulin, interferon and human growth hormones.

Dentists have already begun to use genetically based approaches for treatment. One dentist from the State University of New York at Buffalo School of Dental Medicine uses DNA testing similar to that used in criminal and paternity cases to detect alike types of periodontal disease among family members.

Excerpted from the July issue of "AGD Impact." The Academy of General Dentistry is an international dental association with 32,000 general dentists who as members are dedicated to continuing dental education in order to provide the best possible dental care to their patients.

Hotline cites link with domestic violence, child abuse

According to David Kurtz, Ph.D., director of the Childhelp/IOF Foresters Child Abuse Hotline, spousal abuse has life-long effects on children that can lead to violence in future relationships, even when the child is not being physically hurt.

"In the past, child abuse and domestic violence have been treated as separate issues," states Kurtz. "We are increasingly aware from our work on the hotline that the two phenomena are related. More often than not we are talking about two different sides of the same coin."

A recent study by the U.S. Advisory Board on Child Abuse and Neglect confirms that 50 percent of homes with domestic violence also involve child abuse.

Kurtz states that child abuse and domestic violence are intergenerational, which means they are passed on from generation to generation.

"Violence becomes a legitimate way to deal with conflict. Love and violence become linked. The children believe that if you love someone, it's okay to hit them," says Kurtz.

The emotional impact of family violence can be more traumatic to children than experiencing divorce. He gives the example of a young girl who called the hotline to report sexual abuse by her father. When the crisis counselor asked if the girl's mother could be used as her ally, the girl stated that the father regularly beat her mother. In fact, the father would often make the kids witness the beatings. Together, the counselor and the girl called child protective services for help.

Kurtz has extensive experience in family violence. He was the first man to be hired as children's program coordinator at a domestic violence shelter. His doctoral dissertation focuses on the link between alcohol and spousal abuse.

Kurtz offers tips on how to spot a potential violent relationship and how to stop the abuse before it starts:

- At some point in the relationship there will be a conflict and it will usually end with a low level of violence such as a push or a slap.

- Don't downplay mistreatment. "He said he was sorry!" is not good enough.

- Challenge the push or slap. If not challenged it legitimizes violence as a way to resolve conflict.

- Understand that over time, the violence will increase in frequency and severity.

- Set limits that this behavior won't be tolerated. State comments such as "I believe that you're sorry, but I need more than words, I need actions to prove you won't hurt me again."

- Realize that taking a stand early in the relationship is easier said than done. Kurtz adds that while these tips may sound simple, they challenge a lifetime of values and assumptions about what is permissible in relationship.

For more information or help with child abuse, call the Childhelp IOF Foresters Child Abuse Hotline, 1(800)4-A-CHILD.

Gash releases new budget survey

State Rep. Lauren Beth Gash (D-Highland Park) has released the results of her recent constituent budget survey. The survey consisted of a number of questions to determine constituent opinion on ways in which to save the state money, generate revenue and balance the budget. More than 650 surveys were returned by residents of the 60th Dist.

"Requiring cost-saving measures such as eliminating no-bid contracts," ranked as the No. 1 or No. 2 concern of 60 percent of survey respondents asked to rank five items in order of importance. This was followed closely by "paying the state's overdue bills, particularly its $1.3-billion Medicaid debt," as the top concern of residents (57 percent ranked this as 1 or 2). Next in importance was "increasing the state's level of education funding, which 38 percent of respondents ranked as first or second. Twenty-nine percent of constituents ranked "avoiding any kind of tax increase" as their first or second priority.

Fifty-nine percent of survey respondents stated that they "could not support any state budget which failed to adequately address paying state bills." Gash, in fact, based her no vote on the FY '96 budget in great part on insufficient debt reduction. Of those who supported "postponed bill paying" in the FY '96 budget, 30 percent did so if the state would enact a tax reduction; 23 percent did so if the budget would provide more money for schools; 4 percent supported postponed bill paying if the budget would include more money for prisons.

Of suggested ways to save the state money, the vast majority of respondents—85 percent—indicated their interest in requiring competitive bidding for state contracts. Gash has introduced a bill calling for a review of state leasing practices and recommending competitive bidding of state leases, and last year was the chief sponsor of the Toll Payers' Bill of Rights, legislation which, among its other provisions, required competitive bidding. Only 8 percent of survey respondents were willing to cut direct school funding to save the state money. Fourteen percent indicated their willingness to eliminate certain benefits to public aid recipients (such as providing medical screening to children and pregnant women) to save the state money, and 10 percent were willing to eliminate employment training for public aid recipients in order to save the state money.

Revenue-generating ideas supported by respondents included high marks for increasing so-called "sin" taxes on alcohol (favored by 72 percent) and cigarettes (supported by 74 percent). Less support was evident for retail sales taxes (supported by 13 percent) or increased income taxes (favored by 26 percent). Sixteen percent of those returning surveys indicated they would not support raising any taxes to help generate more revenue for the state.

While survey respondents over age 65 expressed support two to one for a state income tax increase if paired with a property tax reduction in order to help the state meet its obligation to fund education, those under 65 were fairly evenly split between supporting and opposing an income tax increase under these circumstances.

Almost equal numbers of respondents supported, as opposed, an increase in riverboat gambling to generate revenue for the state. Thirty-nine supported increased gambling if revenues were earmarked for education; 42 percent did so to enhance Medicaid or state debt reduction.

Kids 1st Fair set for Aug. 2

The Kids 1st Health Fair, sponsored by the League of Women Voters of Lake County and the Lake County Health Dept., is scheduled for Wednesday, Aug. 2, from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. at Waukegan High School. A wide range of services, including back-to-school physicals for children entering kindergarten, fifth and ninth grades; immunizations; speech and language screenings and medical examinations will be offered to children of low income Lake County families. School-age youngsters will also receive a backpack full of school supplies; preschoolers will be given a toy.

Funding for the fair was obtained from individual and corporate sponsors, including the Abbott Laboratories, Waukegan School Dist. 60, Northwestern Univ., Allstate Insurance and Baxter Healthcare and the Lake County Interagency Council. Grants were provided by the Foundation for Health Enhancement, WGN-TV Children's Charities and NICASA Fighting Back Project.

"The Kids 1st Health Fair contributes greatly to Lake County's children being ready to start school on time," said Robert Depke, chairman of the Lake County Board.

Parents will be able to meet with a variety of social service agencies, available to answer questions about jobs, housing, counseling, legal matters and health care. Registration for social security cards and voting will also be on site.

The fair has served more than 2,500 low income children since its establishment in 1993. Some 600 volunteers participate, including doctors, dentists, nurses, phlebotomists and community organizers. Hospital partners include Condell, Highland Park, St. Therese and Victory hospitals and Midwestern Regional Medical Center. For more information call 360-2937.

Saint Therese gave $37 million over last five years

It may seem that an organization's mission and values are simply words on a plaque. Not so at Saint Therese. In 1989, Saint Therese began to track its contribution to the poor and to the broader community through a Social Accountability Budget originally developed by the Catholic Health Assn.

In 1993-94, nearly $10 million was given by the hospital for benefits for the poor and the broader community.

Nearly $1 million was given in traditional charity care.

Nearly $3 million was taken in (a) unpaid costs for the poor who came to the hospital for care and (b) for philanthropic donations to public programs such as soup kitchens, Catholic Charities programs, medical equipment for the poor, etc.

HealthReach Clinic, sponsored in part by the hospital and established for the medically underserved, received free legislative efforts, support services, medical assistance and donated goods from Saint Therese.

Over $85 million in goods, services and direct charity care were provided by the Franciscan Sisters Health Care Corp.

The mission of Saint Therese Medical Center is, "...We...serve joyfully and compassionately in the spirit of St. Francis. We are a health care system committed to concerted team effort and collaboration. We provide access to a continuum of care and design responses to meet the emerging needs of the whole person. We promote personal and responsible choices for a healthy lifestyle affecting body, mind and spirit."

Government's role?

The definition of government is the protection of a nation's citizens from injustice; domestically and foreign. Government is to be the unbiased overseer of a country's rights. Yet people still believe in the political philosophies of the Republicans and the Democrats. Republicans hold the idea that the rich deserve favors while the poor are just lazy and rightfully remain so. The Democrats believe that the poor are the only exclusive group that should be addressed, and the rich oppress every threat to their status through dishonest means. Both say that they are trying to end exclusivity. Do you see that anywhere in those philosophies? Where is their intent to protect individual rights? Neither parties retain the vision to continue the original idea of America. Aspiration of humanity has been crushed between their political follies.

Drudgery

This is to the Waterway Management Agency. I'd like to know when you're going to finish dredging out Nippersink Channel. It's one of the nicest channels on the chain, but no boats can go down the channel anymore. Every weekend somebody tries and they get stuck. We were told that it would be dredged out this year but we haven't seen a dredger yet. Come on, let's start taking care of the places that really need care instead of the people that have money.

Country folk

We are very disturbed by the family who erected a large fence in a preserved subdivision in Grayslake. They've also constructed something akin to a barn. This is probably the wrong subdivision for this family because the open space is what attracted everyone to this neighborhood. With a fence and a barn, they probably need to live in the country somewhere.

To the point

I wish District 116 kids a happy and safe summer. Congratulations class of '95, we are all proud.

Please signal

I was wondering if anyone could tell me why the cars in Northern Illinois have turn signals that work only when the brakes are applied. Is that a manufacturer defect or is it just the atmosphere of Northern Illinois?

Loser

I'd like to congratulate the Grant girls softball team. It's a shame that their coach Don Studwell couldn't congratulate them as they deserved. A man who's won many championships today proved what a true loser he is. Congratulations girls.

Alternative!

If Route 53 is built, all the areas that border the road will resemble Schaumburg; a concrete jungle. Many wetlands will be lost, property taxes will increase, and the environmental impact on us all will be severe. The alternative is to widen the already existing roads. We don't need Route 53.

Return fire

This is to the political rambling clowns. As for working together, you forget that we had 12 years of Republican garbage before this presidency. Why don't you give him a chance instead of shooting him down? And to the idiot who called me an idiot, I was in Vietnam. Don't tell me about losing people. I lost friends there, so just kiss off.

So mature

I'm 13 and I'd like someone to explain to me why I have to pay an adult fee when I'm not seeing an adult movie. I think that people under 17 should pay a lower fee because, after all, we're not considered adults.

Thanks Grayslake

Thanks, Grayslake Park District for the wonderful day at Jones Island for the July 1 old fashioned picnic to celebrate the village's 100th birthday. But, where was the Centennial Committee?

Do something

To the people of Big Hollow School District. If you know what's good for you you will get off your butts and join the fight that's going on with Bob MacNeal and his Holiday Park project. This rich man is wanting us poor taxpayers to pay for his huge housing development that is going to make him five times as rich as he is now. They claim only 50 children will be added to the school enrollment. How do they figure that with over 200 townhomes plus other single family homes. Join the fight.

Teachers blameless

I am a student at Round Lake High School. I think it is wrong to blame the teachers. Instead, blame Mary Davis. The parents weren't there, we were. Mary Davis shouldn't be the superintendent.

Thanks Walgreens

I want to thank the employees and manager of the Walgreens in Fox Lake. They delivered a prescription to my elderly mother when she couldn't get there. I think that we are very lucky to have this company in our community.

We are being subjected to constant ear blasting horns of freight trains. These trains are equipped with square defective wheels which cause structural damage to our homes. Mayor Hamsher aren't you interested? I urge everyone to call Senator Adeline Geokaris.

Third try

This is the third time I have called about a Mickey Mouse baseball cap that belonged to my son. It was very important to him. He was 3 years old and he said an older child had taken it and the child left with it. I want to remind parents that when your child comes home with something that isn't theirs, it may belong to someone else. If you found this cap, please return it to the Lake Villa Township hall.

You must be ignorant of the teachers we have at the high school. We have the best English staff in the county. To think it is good to send Mrs. Pendergast to the lower grade makes me sick. I would have had her next year.

School candidates

I've just read the article about the four school board candidates. I find it very amusing the four candidates do not know we just passed a referendum in the past couple of years. In addition, there is not one mention by the candidates of the student's welfare.

Round Lake beware

People of Round Lake beware. You have a slate of four people running for the school board of Round Lake. I think the people of Round Lake Beach already have a good school board and these candidates will give everything we have fought so hard for back to the teachers. I think everyone should be aware these candidates are former school teachers. People of Round Lake beware.

His kid flunked

I agree with "Attitudes changed." I'd like to say my kids grades have gotten worse to. I can't see how they passed one semester and then the teachers attitudes have changed and his grades got worse. He got an F. He has failed anything since then. This is from Round Lake Beach.

Check it out

I would like to reply to the political ramblings. Obviously these people do not know that the Republicans have not been in office for 40 years. The last time the Republicans were in office they led us into the depression. They are about to pass the starve the children program where there will be over a million children going to bed hungry in 2002. They have already passed the dirty air bill, the dirty water bill and now they are passing the dirty food bill. I think this is disgraceful. All these facts are checkable.

Sour grapes

How disappointing. I thought a small town like Wauconda would be free of corruption or favoritism. No quite. The new Little Miss Wauconda must have a firefighter for a father. Maybe they should rename the contest the Little Miss Firefighters Contest.

Caught you

I am calling from Round Lake Beach. Regarding the article about the school board candidates, because of the four people running for office are so concerned with holding a referendum, I hope they are on the referendum committee. I have heard some of them have never been at a school board meeting.

Needs shorter leash

I would like to tell the old lady with the mean golden retriever in Felter's Subdivision to keep your dog in your yard. The dog's chain reaches the road. He tries to bite people.

Public service message

Your July 14 Lipservice states about the western bypass Route 120 going to Richmond. A 1967 Chicago Tribune Rand McNally Map shows exactly were Route 53 and Route 120 are proposed.

MYOB

My next door neighbors should mind their own business. They keep telling me how to discipline my kids. Mind your own business.

Unemployed?

You see the last U.S. television maker (Zenith) was sold to Korea. Way to go government. You are too busy saving factory farms and others who kiss your butts.

Progress vs. history

I would like to know what happened to the school on Hunt Club Road. I would like an investigation into who owned it and why they tore it down. It would have been great for school children to learn the history of Lake County education.

Separatist

Wauconda, once again the building of homes in Island Lake will cost us. The library now has to build an addition to accommodate all those kids. Island Lake why don't you become a real town?

Yuck

Wauconda, swimmers in Banks

Lake. Thanks to you outsiders who will not mind your own business. Swimmers, when all the weeds with bacteria filled goose poop pull you down, smile while you are trying to surface?

Dog advice

To last weeks "Dog hit and run." If you kept your dog off Route 12, which is a really big highway, you wouldn't have a problem. Your kids either. Why don't you use your head and keep those you love out of the road.

Likes the "Taste"

Regarding who needs the Taste of Chicago, I live in Antioch. I don't feel you should lower your standards. I have been to the Taste. I think it is nice, the food is very reasonable. It is very clean and very See LIPSERVICE page C7 well organized. Have you people ever been to the Taste of Chicago. Come people of Antioch. You have better standards than that. Why don't you try raising them a little higher.

He got away

Hi I am in Grayslake. On Friday June 16 a little girl was struck by a hit and run driver with dark hair and a mustache. I am extremely upset about the Lake County Sheriff's Department. None of them asked any of the area homeowners to get information about the incident. So, congratulations driver, you got away with it.

She's tired

I am tired of the Grayslake Village Board allowing totally uncontrolled growth. When is enough, enough. I am unfortunately getting the idea they are being paid under the table. Surely they have seen they have irrevocably ruined our school due to overcrowding. Our wetlands are being raped. Many things have been done in the name of progress, but let's wake up Grayslake. Let's not let the developers take over our board and our town. Start attending village board meetings.

So Pretty

The Junior miss and the little miss pageants are open to residents of Wauconda, unincorporated Wauconda township, or must reside in zip code 60084 or school district 118. Also for you Wauconda residents that are so upset that people from Island Lake are entering this pageant, maybe you guys should start your own pageant and call it Junior miss Wauconda firefighter.

Wireless

Let's hear it for Commonwealth Edison. They have charged us exorbitant rates for these many years, so they could build nuclear reactors across the state. But, their genius engineers forgot to hook up the wires. That was the reason for the blackout.

Achoo

The government blew it again. They've had a chance over the last few years to help Zenith, but they let them be bought out by a Korean company, and no there are no American T.V.s made anymore. They bail out Chrysler, they jump any time a automaker sneezes, but they let the foreign T.V.s be dumped in our market for less than nothing, being supported by their government, but they won't help a great company like Zenith. Way to go.

Aquatic Mayhem

I've lived in Wildwood for 23 years, and I cannot remember seeing a boating accident before last weekend. This guy who made comments about this being an on-going problem should open his eyes and realize that this doesn't usually happen out there. The lake is rather safe compared to other lakes in the area. I really think this man should realize that it's not as bad as what he's seen.

Water Is Life

On Gurnee's water policy: they send you a bill for three months and they want it paid within 11 to 12 days. If you're one day late they want to charge you 10% more. I say that if they want to charge you 10% more for being a day late, which usually is about $10, then they can wait for their money for 30 days.

All Smiles

This is to the organizers of the Prairie Grass festival in Round Lake. Your people were so rude that we, my mom, my daughter and I, went to McHenry and were greeted warmly at their festival which was much nicer than yours.

The Dog House

I'd like to commend Lakeland News for not running give away ads for pets. If some pet owners were more responsible, these would not be needed. Also, to the lady who's daughter's dog was killed, my condolences, but who's responsible for the dog's safety? Route 12 is a busy highway. Whoever hit the dog should have had the decency to pull it out of the highway.

Disappointed

I just came back from the Prairie Grass festival and it sucked. It was built up to be so wonderful. I think that Rich Hill really needs to pay back the Beach for anything that they put up there 'cause I'll tell you, it was the biggest disappointment of my life.

No Peanuts?

I'm calling about the circus that they had. It's very upsetting that we had to pay $12 for two adults and not getting to see the circus. I think there should be a way for people to get their money back that are still holding tickets. It was very unorganized and people were very rude.

Good Friday

I was looking forward to having a good time at the circus on Friday, and it turned out that I couldn't even see it because it was so crowded. I'd like to know how to get my money back. I am very disappointed at what happened on Friday.

Good move

I for one am glad to see the normalization of relations with Vietnam. Every other country that we went to war with became allies almost over night. All this moaning about M.I.A.s; I feel sorry for them, but we lost guys in every war. You can't account for everyone. So, give it a rest.

Prairie Positive

Three cheers to the Round Lake area for their Prairie Grass festival this year. Our family went and had a great time. I hope they do it again next year.

Briefing

This is to the family who's dog was killed on Route 12; what was your dog doing out there anyway?

How To Survive The Job Search

By Nancy Sakol

Q: Dear...Search: I am having a hard time dealing with a situation that I have recently found myself up against. I went to work for a company in April that started me at $21,000 per year. My former job that I lost due to layoffs had me at a $23,000 per year salary and I was willing to accept a cut in pay because I was promised a review in July. My review has come and I received my raise as promised; however, I decided I really needed more money and asked for a bit more stating I had the opportunity to interview with the "competition" (so to speak) for a higher salary. I received only the amount of money that had been promised. Shortly afterward I interviewed with that company and was offered a position with a starting salary in the high 20's. The drive was a lot farther, but the money was what I needed so I forged ahead. I gave a few days notice to my employer and started my new job that lasted for two days before I realized that I had made a mistake. This company was way behind in their bills so much so, that I spent the first half of my first day answering the phone calls of irate individuals. By the third day I realized while fighting traffic and dreading to go into the office that I had to do something. I contacted the employer I just left days before to ask for my job back. I spoke to my division manager who was very short with me and said to contact personnel as it was not his decision to make. I called Personnel who said they would look into it and get back to me. Three days had passed when I received a call with the knowledge that the company would not be accepting me back due to corporate policies. That makes no sense since they spent over three months training me for that position that I knew well. Why wouldn't the company jump at the chance to have me back rather than having to form another search for someone to fill the position I already know? Sign me...Stuck.

A: Dear Stuck, Why wouldn't the company accept you back? Let me count the reasons: Lack of loyalty, integrity, dedication, ethics, greed...shall I stop? You left a company without ample notice leaving the company in a lurch, you went to work for the competition and rubbed it in their faces, you failed to look into the company background, thereby finding out the hard way that you were in a losing situation, and then when you were finished exploring, had the guts to ask them for your job back. I cannot think of any company that would want to take back an employee in a situation like this. Most good corporations have a "no deposit, no return" clause when there is employee terminations of this sort. The old saying that if it seems too good to be true it probably is...definitely holds true here. You were quick to jump ship with employer one, be sure that the reason you are quick to jump off number two is viable. Good luck!

Note: Nancy Sakol is a licensed personnel professional and President of Superior Personnel in Gurnee. Letters can be sent to Nancy at 4949 Grand Ave., Gurnee, IL 60031.

PET OF THE WEEK

Bear is a black and cream, six year old male shepherd mix. One of our personal favorites, this attractively marked larger mid-size dog has the heart of a lamb. This big sweet boy is unusually sweet, and exceptionally gentle. Bear is in the prime of his life, and has many fine qualities. He listens well, is calm, loves people, and he positively glows when you give him attention and affection. Bear is also alert, responsive, and has had some training. Bear has an adorable way about him that reminds us of Walt Disney's "Bashful" in Snow White. We think he's irresistible, and once he gets to know you, he'll think you are too! Bear knows how to give paw and he's been waiting to give someone his heart for a full year. One of our personal favorites, Bear is waiting in Cage 59.

WINDSOR

The 2653 square foot Windsor has an attractive brick and wood exterior that is pleasing to the eye, and an interior floor plan that is amenable to many family situations. The sleeping quarters, at opposite ends of the house, make it ideal for those families with teenagers or an elderly parent in the home. This configuration allows everyone to have privacy when desired, yet includes plenty of common areas so that nobody feels isolated.

An old fashioned covered porch is a welcome sight as you make your way into the vaulted entry. Immediately inside, the living room and dining room (with vaulted ceilings), create a great room effect. A fireplace, that will warm the whole area, and a coat closet are all that separate the two rooms.

The master suite sits by itself on the left side of the house. The amenities here include a skylight, oversized tub, separate vanity, walk-in closet and access to a small, private back deck. Put a couple of lounge chairs out here and enjoy the sun.

The walk-through kitchen makes it easy for the cook in the house to prepare and serve meals. When not using the formal dining room, there is an eating bar and a small nook for more casual fare. Other kitchen features are a grill, garden window and walk-in pantry. Hot snacks can be served up in the adjoining family room. Skylit, with a built-in entertainment center, this is the spot for family and friends to gather and watch the big game or listen to your favorite new album. When the weather permits, take the whole gang out on the back deck for a barbecue.

Directly across from the kitchen is a room that can be designated as a home office or a guest suite. It has a private bathroom and a linen closet in the hall. Two identical bedrooms are at the far right side of the house. Each has ample closet space. They share linen storage and a full bathroom with twin basins.

Access to the garage is through a convenient utility room that has a handy trash compactor and fold-down ironing board. The two-car garage has extra storage area and a built-in workbench.

For a study kit of the WINDSOR (334-200), send $10.00, to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307-LP60, Eugene, OR 97402 (Be sure to specify plan name & number). For a collection of plan books featuring our most popular home plans, send $20 to Landmark.

Vikings to fine tune game plan for season opener

A few firsts took place Saturday as the Lake County Vikings clashed with the Chicago Falcons in semi-pro football action.

At least two of three of them were bad in a 44-6 defeat.

The loss marked the first pre-season defeat for Vikings' Coach Russ Kraly and was the first loss to the Falcons. The lopsided defeat may have a side benefit though as the team readies for the Aug. 5. season opener against Indiana Renegades.

"Now, I have their attention. I have had teams go through pre-season undefeated and their heads get this big," Kraly said, holding his hands apart.

The Vikings' only touchdown was scored by the defense. Jack Maxfield picked up a Falcons fumble and rammed 15 yards for the score and a 32-6 margin with 8:28 left.

Corey Turner also had a strong play on defense, as he had an interception. He is a former wide receiver as a high school standout in Carol Stream.

"I just stayed in my spot in containment. The wide receiver cut in and I saw the play and the ball was thrown right to me," Turner said.

Turner sees the Vikings as a way of getting back into football career. He played at junior college Triton in River Grove and earned a spot on the Syracuse University roster, but a injury cut short his career as an Orangemen.

The Vikings had a chance to see where they need to work since the exhibition games are over.

"The offensive and defensive lined play killed us. We were short three first-stringers on defense," Kraly said.

Kraly did see some positives in the game which does not count in the final record. There was the punting of Chris Westphal and the quarterback play of Adam Tesch, who was constantly under pressure. Scott Davis guided the second-half Vikings on offense.

Long touchdown passes hurt the home team - which had brought a respectable crowd to Round Lake High. An interception set up a 25-yard pass play from Goss Glendon to Melvin Jackson for Glendon's second TD and a 16-0 lead.

Immanuel Johnson scored the first of two touchdowns for a 36-yard score and a 23-0 halftime lead.

The Vikings struggled on offense, with 21 passing yards and minus first-half rushing yards.

The woes mounted early in the second half as a muffed punt led to another Falcons score.

The Vikings' Midwest Football League has a new look this year. The North division has the Vikings, Midway Jets, Falcons and Springfield Bucs. In the East are the Oakland Co. Chargers, Indiana Renegades and Gary Golden Bears.

The Vikes' schedule: Aug. 5, Indiana Renegades, home, Round Lake High, 6 p.m.; Aug. 12, Chicago Falcons away, TBA; Aug. 19, Oakland Co. Chargers, home, Round Lake High, 6 p.m.; Aug. 26, Springfield Bucs, at Springfield, 4 p.m.; Sept. 2, Midway Jets, home, Round Lake High, 6 p.m.; Sept. 9, bye; Sept. 16, Indy Renegades, at Hobart, ID, 7 p.m.; Sept. 23, Springfield Bucs, home, Round Lake High, 6 p.m.; Sept. 30, Gary Golden Bears, at Gilroy Stadium, Gary, 7 p.m.; Oct. 14, Midway Jets, TBA, 6 p.m.

New '9' officially opened at Midlane

Months of hard work at Midlane Country Club in Wadsworth will pay off July 28 at 9 a.m. when Midlane officially unveils its new addition with a ribbon cutting ceremony at the clubhouse.

This multi-million upgrade to northern Illinois' premiere golf course features swimming, a golf learning center and nine new challenging holes that brings Midlane County Club up to a 27-hole golf complex.

Heading the list of local dignitaries attending the ceremony is Waukegan Mayor Bill Durkin along with other city officials.

"Midlane is proud to bring Lake County this exciting new golf and recreation complex," according to Lenny Khayat, Midlane County Club general manager. "Golf professionals have noted that our eighth hole reminds them of the fabled No. 12 at Augusta National Golf Course in Atlanta. For every golfer who's ever dreamed of challenging courses like Augusta but never had the chance, Midlane County Club will be a pleasant surprise!"

Augusta National is the home of the Masters, one of the annual "Grand Slam" tournament events on the PGA tour.

Midlane's new golf and recreation complex includes a state-of-the-art driving range along with a complete tennis and swimming pool and a party room with a balcony overlooking the pool that seats 100.

Competition heats up in Lake Michigan

TODD SWIFT

Correspondent

Lake Michigan water was boiling over this past weekend. Not by the heat though, no, it was the Budweiser Jet Sports Tours' personal watercraft that were causing the water to pulsate.

Round 6 of the Westcoast Performance Nationals invaded Illinois Beach State Park last weekend. For those who missed the action this year, ESPN and ESPN2 will air it Aug. 1, 9 and 13. Check TV guide for exact times.

Riders from all parts of the United States converged on the Lake Michigan resort to do battle for prize money and the season-ending points championship. The total payout over the 10-race series was nearly $1 million.

The riders competed on two days; amateurs on Saturday and the professional classes on Sunday. The highlight of the weekend was the Pro classes. The premier class machines, Pro Runabout 785, reach speeds of 60 MPH. That is flying on the water.

The events are split up into different classes, depending on the type of watercraft and the amount of modifications done to the watercraft. There are two types of vehicles at these races, "Jet Skis" and Runabouts.

"Jet Skis" were the first personal watercraft and are the ones in which the rider stands up. "Runabouts" are newer and the rider can sit while riding, while in competition that is not the fastest way around the course.

In the premier Pro Runabout 785 class, it was Victor Sheldon of Vista, Calif. destroying the competition in the event-deciding second moto. No one was even close to Sheldon, who won for the first time in Pro Runabout. He was followed by Tom Bonacci of Brea, Calif., who put in a consistent ride all day, finishing second in both motos.

The real battle was between World Runabout champion Minoru Kanamori of Japan and Chris MacClugage of Naples, Fla. These two duked it out for the majority of the race, colliding with one another several times in moto two. Kanamori finished third overall (he won the first moto) by besting MacClugage in their second moto battle.

The other race of note was the Pro Ski 785 Modified class. It seemed as if no one wanted to win this class. The top three finishers all led at one point in the race, but either crashed out of the lead or the craft had engine trouble.

Chris Flores of Las Vegas, Nev. took the lead back from MacClugage on the final lap when MacClugage had engine troubles with only a half-lap to go. Finishing third was Nicholas Rius of Lake Havasu City, Ariz.

Along with the closed course racing there is also a "FreeStyle" event. This event is done on either type of watercraft. The goal in this event is to perform a water ballet on top or under the watercraft. The riders perform their best tricks trying to impress a panel of judges. The scoring is just like diving or figure skating.

This event is the one the crowd really gets into. Though the judges are looking for the intricacies and technical merit, the crowd wants "air time." Each time a rider would do a jump, called a submarine, the craft would literally submerge under the water, driving the crowd wild.

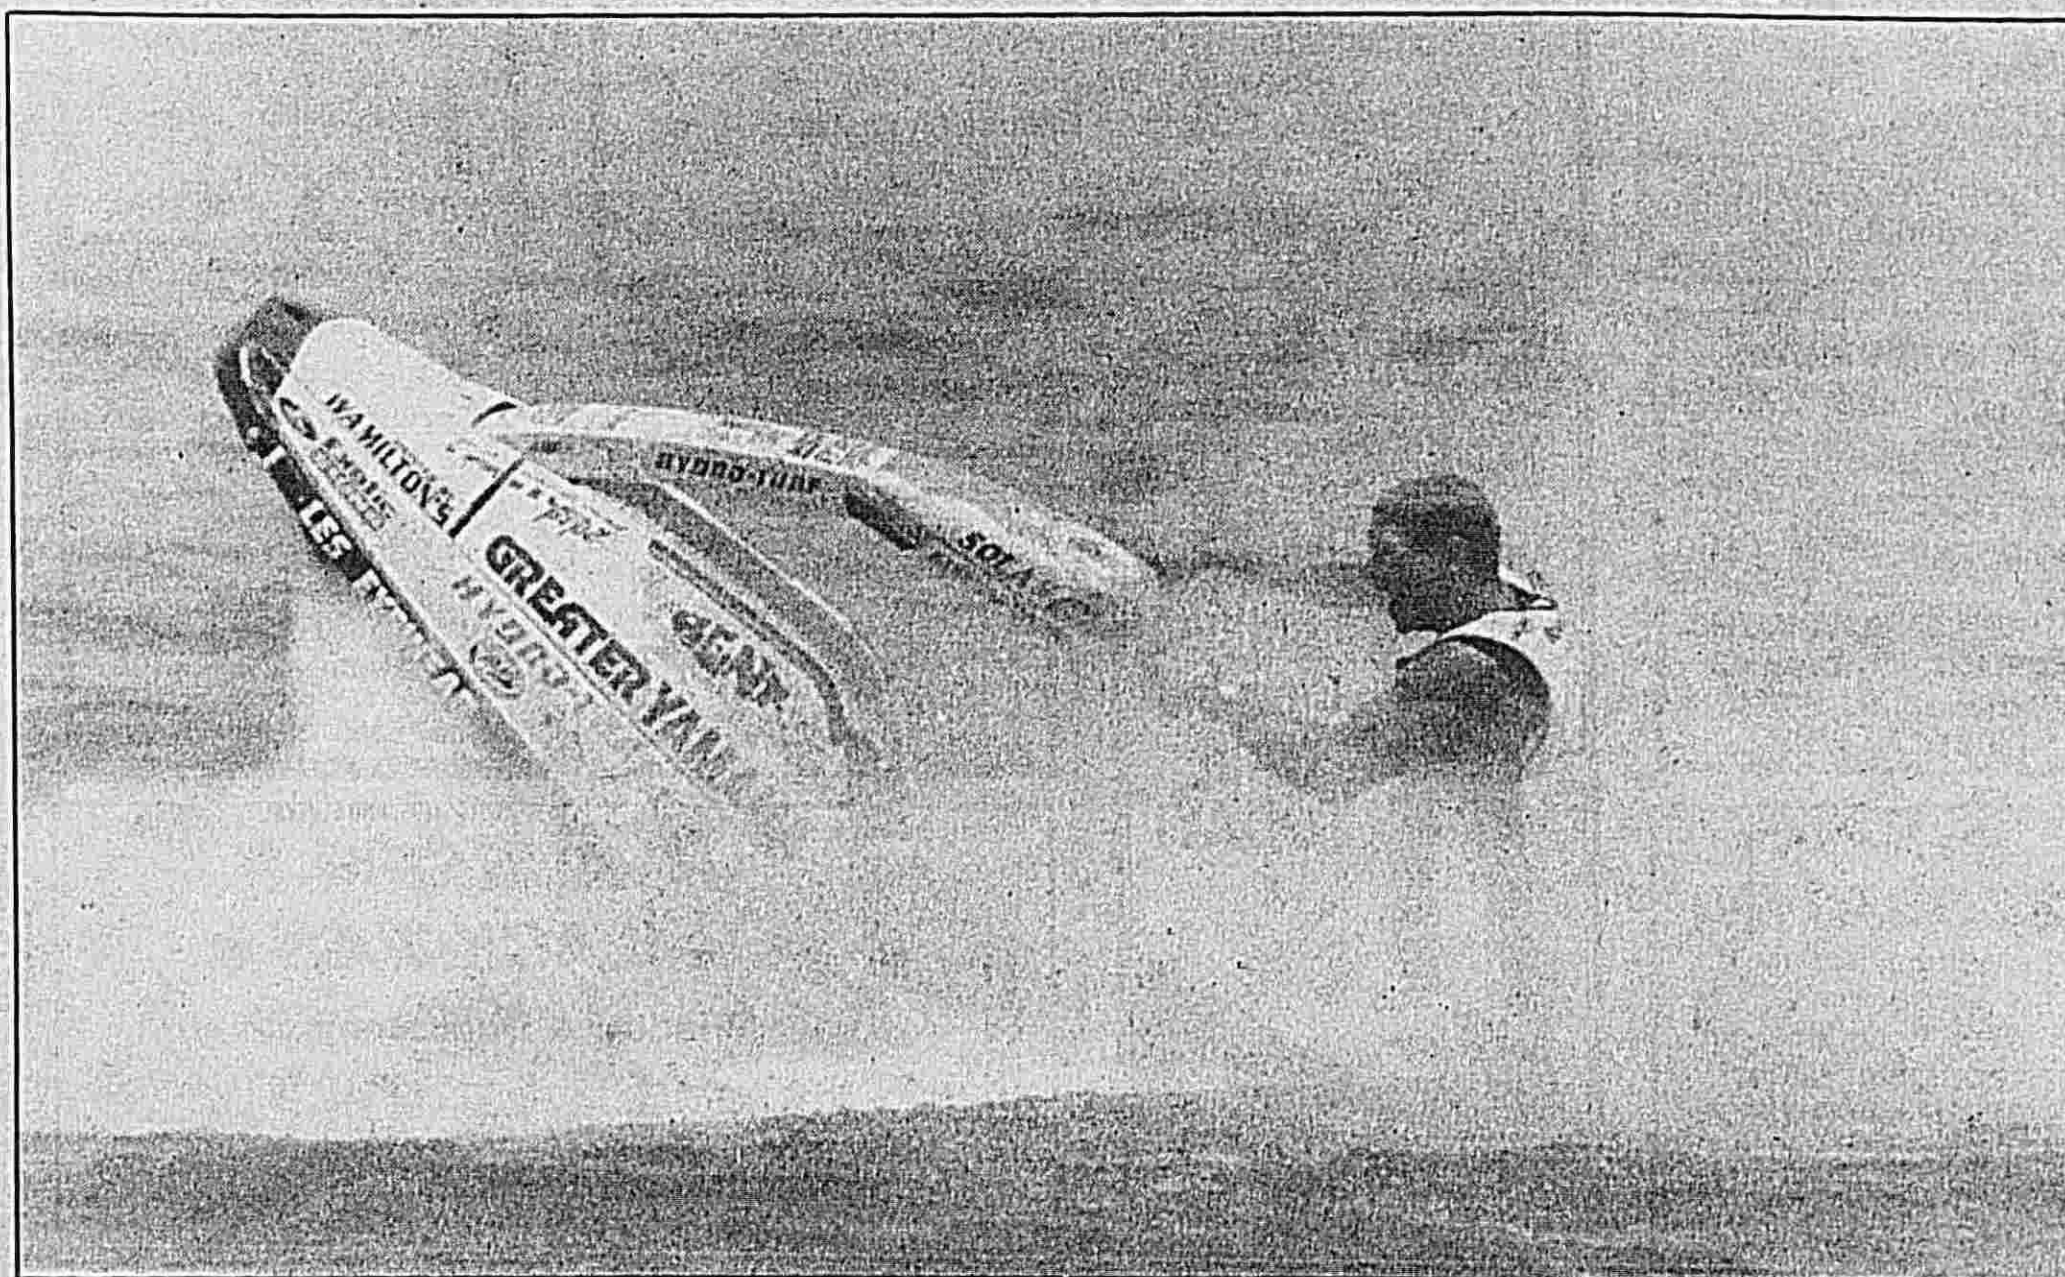

The top "FreeStyler" of the weekend was Canadian Rick Roy. Roy won for the fourth time in a row and leads the series points standings. He was followed closely by Lloyd Burlew of Satellite Beach, Fla. and Marc Sickerling of Bergneustadt, Germany.

A great time was had by all the spectators with plenty of sun and good food. Hats off to the Bud Jet Sports tour people for putting on a fully professional event.

Results of the competition are as follows.

Pro Runabout 785 Modified: First place, Victor Sheldon of Vista, Calif.; second, Tom Bonacci of Brea, Calif.; and third, Minoru Kanamori of Japan.

Chiefs' second-half offense leads to victory

Lake County Chiefs' debut in semi-pro football was a successful one.

The Chiefs downed the Chicago Thunder 23-7 in a contest at North Chicago High.

"It was a good start for us. As I told the club afterward, we have a lot of new players and to put it together for a win is refreshing," Coach Mike Wade said.

The team is in its first year and takes the place of the former Lake County Knights in the Chicagoland Football League.

All the scoring took place in the game's second half. Quarterback Todd Brown threw three TD passes and Tom Vergis added a field goal.

"In the first half we noticed some things. They tried to stop the short game so we opened up the long game," Wade said of the passing attack.

Brown's first strike was to Clifton Cooper from 45 yards out. After a 42-yard field goal by Vergis, Brown found Cliff Paul open from 25 yards out for a score and a 65-yard bomb to Pannell Moore ended the scoring.

Mike Moore led the ground game with 7 carries for 57 yards.

The Chiefs play their next semi-pro game at 1 p.m. July 30 against the Palos Force at North Chicago. Wade praised the cooperation of NCCHS officials in letting the Chiefs use Warhawk Stadium. "They have been tremendous to work with."

Waukegan Red earns wins, respect at Kentucky meet

The Waukegan All-Star baseball Red team continues to improve as the season winds down.

The Reds finished fifth out of eight teams at a Lexington, Ky. and own a .500 overall record. After the tournament, the team is preparing to host a Michigan team this weekend.

"We were in fifth place and that was better than we did in Indiana," Coach Tom Jackson said. "We have a lot of young guys who are improving. This is their first exposure to baseball everyday and they, on the whole, are improving."

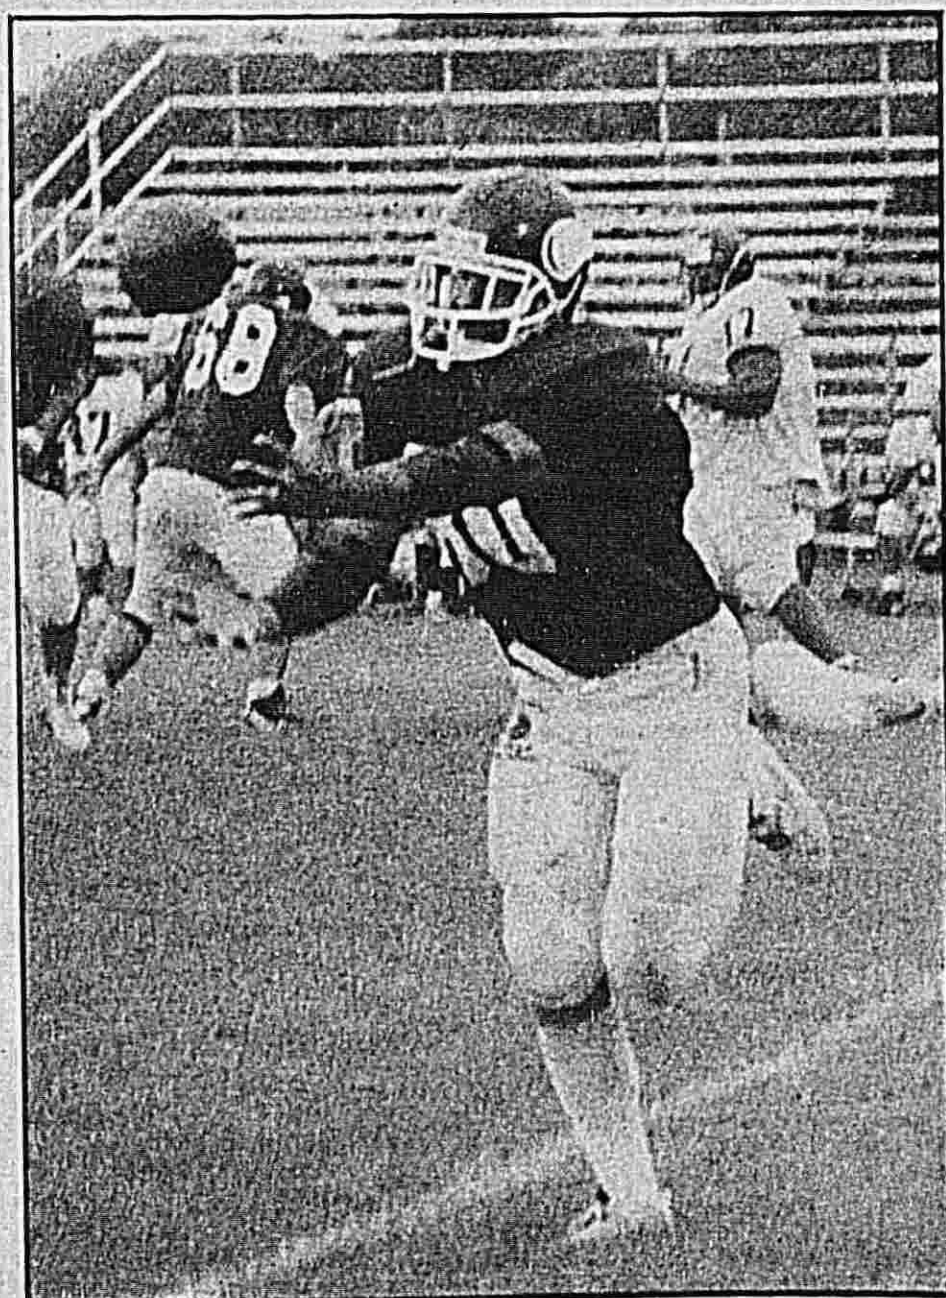

The team finished fourth in the North Suburban Colt League.

At Lexington, Cory Donel and Steve Georgi gained the wins with Steve Hale gaining a save. The victories came in a 10-1 win over title winner Harrison County, Ky. and a 7-6 win over an Akron, Ohio team.

Leading hitters for the Reds are: Steve Spasojevich at .310 and Joe Rockers at .320.

"Steve has been a good team leader as well as hitter," Jackson said.

The games against Fairfield, Mich. will be at Simmons Field in Kenosha. Game times July 28 are 12 and 2 p.m., 11 a.m. for July 29.

Libertyville Little League advances in state tourney

The Libertyville Little League, under-10 baseball team coached by Mike Richter and Ed Zurek took on Grant Township of Fox Lake in the first round of the state sectionals and defeated Grant 5-2 to advance.

Grant was fresh from their slaughter of Great Lakes, just days prior. The game at Williams Field in Antioch began innocently enough with Libertyville pitcher Brett Foley facing only 10 Grant batters through 3 innings. The Libertyville half of the third was a different story.

With two outs, Matt Zurek singled, followed by Jim Friend's double. Foley drove in one with a single and then Ben Engstrom delivered two more with a triple to the left field corner. Friend and Engstrom would also combine for two separate runs on near identical stretch triples followed by stealing home on passed balls in the fifth. All Libertyville players contributed to hold Grant via a strong team defensive effort.

Other than two meaningless runs in the last inning, Ryan Schwerman's pitching combined with key defensive plays in the last inning sealed the Libertyville victory. Sean Danehy's "strike" to Foley from deep right field trapped a Grant hitter into a well executed rundown between second and third. Catcher Friend picked a runner off base with a dart to first-baseman Engstrom. The last out was made on a stretch by backpeddling Zurek to a ball in deep center, six feet from the fence.

Highlights of individual performance include Foley faced 10 batters in 3 innings pitched, 2 for 3 hitting, 1 run scored, 1 RBI.

• Ryan Schwerman: 4 strikeouts in 3 innings pitched, 3 assists, put-out, hit;

• Zurek, 1 for 3 hitting, one run scored;

• Friend, 2 for 3 (double, triple); 2 runs scored, stole home, picked runner off first;

• Ben Engstrom, 2 for 3 (triples), 1 run scored, 2 RBIs, 4 putouts at first;

• Jeremy Cummings, 3

putouts at Frisbees;

• Sean Richter, Sean Danehy, Jay Moynihan, ground ball putouts.
